No More Komers.

Once Popular Custom Dies from Lack of Interest, Bursar and Fraternity Discouraged at Outlaws.

After a long and exciting debate, the Institute Committee decided last Friday noon to discontinue the Saturday evening Komers. This action was taken because of the poor attendance and lack of interest which has been shown at the Komers this year.

Bursar Rand was present at the meeting and advocated this action. He said: "If the fellows do not care enough about the Komers to come to them without urging, I don't think it is policy to cram them down their throats. It is impossible to get good speakers to come up here and then insult them. We have tried to get good speakers to come up here and then insult them if they saw fit. Bursar Rand personally was concerned, to drop the Komer up to the Institute Committee decided.

Mr. Rand told Bursar Rand to put the question up to the Institute Committee decided.

It was impossible to keep them interested in the Komer.
