THE TECH

Published every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday during the academic year, by the students of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

EDITORIAL STAFF
M. E. Evans, Editor-in-Chief
W. P. Ogden, Managing Editor
K. W. Hubbard, News Editor
L. E. King, Jr.
B. R. Hinkham, 1909
H. E. Blackett, 1909

NEWS STAFF
P. H. Fowle, 1909
A. A. Hornick, 1909
C. W. Ogden, 1909
H. F. Smith, 1909
D. C. McDonald, 1909

BUSINESS STAFF
R. W. Parlin, Business Manager
P. B. Lord, 1909
G. A. Haynes, 1909

Subscriptions - - - $1.50 per year in advance.

P. B. LORD, 1909
G. A. HAYNES, 1909

THE ABANDONMENT OF THE SATURDAY SUBSCRIPTION - - - $1.50 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE.

P. B. LORD, 1909 G. A. HAYNES, 1909

In our last issue we chronicled the abandonment of the Saturday night Kommers. Notwithstanding the untiring efforts of End of Bursar Rand and the Kommers, the attractions offered in the shape of such prominent men as Mr. Moorfield Story and Mr. Louis Frothingham as speakers, the attempt to popularize this form of entertainment has been given up by its promoters as unsuccessful.

One can pardon those who have been instrumental in establishing this custom for defeating and disheartening at the lack of support with which their best efforts have been met. Nothing has been left undone which could in any way have contributed to the success of these meetings, and their abandonment has not in any way due to poor management or lack of interest to induce men to attend. It is to our minds simply another proof of the lack of college life and spirit which is so noticeable at the Institute. It is the visible expression of the desire of a number of Tech men to escape from their Institute relations as soon as their work is completed, and to seek their pastimes and amusements in as remote a field as removed from their scenes of work as may be.

AMATEUR PHOTOGRAPHERS ATTENTION!
The best developing paper for amateurs "Cyco" will be demonstrated April 12, 13 and 15th from 9:30 A.M. to 5:00 P.M., at 13: BROMFIELD STREET

Photographic Dept.,
INKHAM & SMITH COMPANY

FOWNES GLOVES
WILL BE WORN LONGER THAN OTHERS - THAT IS, OTHER GLOVES

"THE GIRLS ARE FOND OF THESE"

Tech Emblems

BENT & BUSH
15 SCHOOL ST. BOSTON, MASS.