WILLIAM WILLIE AND BILL.

Outline of Plot.—Show Getting Its Finishing Touches.

Tech Show is on its last lap. On Friday the entire cast spent the whole day at the Gym, going through the Show very thoroughly. Although the acting was not quite as finished as it should be, Mr. Francis expressed great satisfaction with the work and said that with the first of this week in which to add the finishing touches, "William, Willie, and Bill" will undoubtedly prove the most successful Show that Tech has given.

The whole cast was given an excellent dinner at the Union by the Management between the acts. After the dinner Macomber spoke to the men about the final arrangements and then requested a little diversion in the way of song and story. Childs and Mr. Francis gave several ludicrous stories, Rebori added some good impersonations, Jenkins and Ellis sang two of last year's Show songs, and Orchard sang "Gypsy Jan."

With the ending of this week will end also the ninth theatrical season of the students of the Institute. Since early in February the men in the cast have been working daily in the Union, the chorus practising the dances and songs and the principals going over and over the various ludicrous situations and love scenes in the plot.

The production this year is essentially a straight college play but certain liberties have been taken with the plot by introducing vaudeville features. These special features have not been put in to such a degree as to mar the plot of the piece or to affect the continuity of action, but rather as a vehicle for local hits.

The scene of the play is laid at a summer resort where are gathered the usual tourists, largely 1910 LOSES GAME.

In a bitter cold wind 1910 was defeated by Waltham High at the Waltham Bicycle Park Wednesday, 10 to 4. 1910 started out with a rush, and, after O'Hearn had circled the bases on a fluke in the first inning, it looked like a win for the Freshmen. In the fourth, however, they began to go up in the air and after that were able to secure but one run, while Waltham added to their score in each inning. The summary follows:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Waltham	0	1	1	2	2	3	1	0	x—10
1910	1	1	0	0	1	0	0	0	—4

Runs—O'Hearn, Harris, Fraim 3, Loutit, P. Graverson 2, Daly, McCabe, Maxey, Smith 2, Marsh.

TECH GIVEN $5000.

By the will of the late Alexander S. Wheeler, one of the founders of the Institute and member of the old law firm of Hutchins and Wheeler, filed for probate in Suffolk county Wednesday, $5000 is left to Technology. $1000 was also given to the Boston Asylum and Farm School for Indigent Boys. The remainder of the estate which is understood to be quite large, is left to his widow and his children.

1908 WINS GOLD AND WINDY MEET.

Fierce Competition at the Spring Meet Makes Events Exciting and Fast. Strong Wind Prevents Record Smashing.

The wind "she blew" at the spring class meet Saturday, and "bimeby she blew some more." But the day was bright, the Juniors won, and the performances, considering the conditions, promise the best track team that Tech ever turned out.

It was the wind, and wind, and more wind that kept the competitors from breaking records.

The performances throughout were above the average. John Mahan says: "The outcome was most satisfactory. Tech will have the best team in years."

In the point getting the Juniors had it all their own way with 55 points. The Seniors came out only one point ahead of the Sophomores with 30, and the Freshmen last with 28.

Gimson walked away with the half mile in easy fashion. Taking the lead early, he carried the bunch around the first lap in fast time. After the first quarter he opened up a big space, being pushed only on the last corner by Chapman. Gimson had it on Chapman by 5 yards at the finish with the other two trailing in.

By a burst of speed at the 50-yard mark Richards walked away from the fast bunch and won the 100-yard dash by a good yard. The five men jumped away from the mark together and, with the exception of Richards, ran breast to breast through the entire distance. Gram, Gould and Blackburn won the next three places by inches while Fernstrom barely lost out. The high wind was at the runners' backs, but it did little

SQUAD WALKS OVER COURSE.

A small squad of the men in the 1909-1910 cross country race walked over the Tech-Harvard course Friday. Considerable brush has been cleared off along the "Bridle Paths" and the course will be in good shape for the race on May 4.

The following schedule has been made out to keep the candidates for this race in training: April 23, 4.15, meet at the Gym; April 27, 2.45, meet at the Field; May 1, 4.30, meet at the Field. On Saturday, May 4, the squad will leave Back Bay Station at 2.22 P.M. for the race. The class with the largest team has the best chance to win out. The first three men to finish will get their numerals.

PROF. HAVEN TALKS ON POWER.

Thirty men enjoyed Professor Haven's address on "The Gift of Power," Thursday at the Y. M. C. A. meeting. He said, "The power of some men is self centered. These men do not rise high. God gives power to other men and their possibilities are infinite."

Professor Haven gave a fine illustration in the change in Jacob upon leaving and upon returning home. "The man who has power is not the man who makes the most noise, but the man who stands next to the source of Power, God."

good, as the wind was so chilly that the men were stiffened before the start.

Bobby Albro was an easy first in the high hurdles. Before this event a whirlwind nearly blew the hurdles over the fence. Three new men appeared at the start and ran well together to the finish. Bell got second place by a small margin over Doane with Bartlett fourth.

Only four men went from the mark in the mile. The first three rounds seemed to promise a fight as Howland took a good lead with Buckingham taking his time. At the end of the third lap Chapman dropped out and Buckingham started to sprint. As it was a one, two, three affair Howland took things easy, while Buckingham romped in a winner by 15 yards. Howland kept Mills well in hand and finished an easy second.

Attenuated Allen again came to the fore in the high jump, being pushed very little by the other entrants. The height he passed over was exceedingly good for the weather. It is encouraging to note that Schobinger, Bartlett, and Stuart were only a few inches apart.

Udale did a wonderful piece of running in the two mile with the high wind holding him back. Going out unpaced, tramping around a half lap ahead of the others, he came in first, with almost 100 yards lead over Ellis. The time was only 11 seconds behind the record. Ellis, the second man, came up well on the last lap. Batchelder almost caught Callaway at the tape.

Schobinger won the broad jump against the wind with a good distance. The performances were fair throughout. Schobinger was also a star in the pole vault, doing 10 feet 10 inches and then trying

'08 DEFEATS MILTON.

The '08 Baseball Team defeated Milton Academy 6-5 in a hotly contested game on Saturday afternoon. The score, which was close throughout the game, added to the excitement. The star players for '08 were Burton, Lord, and Williams.

CIVIC CLUB ELECTS.

The Civic Club held its dinner and annual election of officers at the Union Thursday evening. About thirty men were present. The officers are: J. A. Reid, president; C. Hibbard, vice-president; O. J. Crommet, secretary; R. Ellis, treasurer.

Mr. Seaver, the speaker of the evening, gave a talk on "The Duty of Kicking Wisely." He said that every man of superior education in a community should make his influence felt by kicking wisely, hard, and incessantly. He also showed that it was possible with very little effort, to prepare one's self to kick wisely by reading the best of the current periodicals regularly and carefully.
