TECH NIGHT JUNE 4.

Arrangements Made for the Annual Tech Production and on Slippery Field.

(Special Discount to the Tech)

ORONO, ME., May 4.—In spite of the inclement weather and the hoodoo number, Tech won the dual meet from the University of Maine at Orono, today, by a score of 86 to 40. Dredgefield was the weather that the Tech men when they got off the train. The field held any clayey ground, was a poid, and the track was very slippery. In the last pursuit the team from the time it left Boston until after the meet. Twenty four men were taken but none missed the train, and gave the first 23. The fellows discovered soon after starting the Pullman coach was stranded on the snow for the night. Then came the climax, Gimson being handicapped 25 as the competitor’s number, and falling at the end of the first quarter in half mileage.

Gimson was not the only one to fall for Torrey of Maine went down 22 in the mile and Wynn of Maine went down in the quarter while Eaton fell near the finish in the eighth hurdles.

Gimson was the one big star for Tech, equalling the Institute record in the 100, securing second place in the 220, and running the quarter on the watery track in in 52 3-5 sec.

In the first heat of the 220 Wyman of Maine and Black now ran as dead heat, but the Tech man got the close shave in the last St. Ogue in last time. Cummings, after Gimson fell, walked off with the 1-mile with the Maine man trailing in. Buckingham of Tech and Porter of Maine had a close run during the mile run, the latter catching and passing the Tech veteran near the finish.

Gregor established a new record in the two mile in easy fashion with Dfale trotting on the outside. The accident in the high hurdles lost Tech a second place, for Albro and Eaton were running even over the last hurdle when the latter went down.

The low hurdles went to Clayton of Maine by a small margin over Fernstrom.

The lanes were in such a sloppy condition that R. H. Allen was not only able to do 5 ft. 3 in. in the high jump. Orr and Schoenlieber had an easy time in the pole vault as did Eaton and Schoenlieber in the broad jump.

Krofnek won his letter and first place in the hammer throw as did Nisbet in the discus.

There were from five to six hundred at the meet. The team went to the theatre in Bangor in the evening and stayed over night at the Bangor House. The team returned yesterday.

The snow, sleet, hail, rain mixed with Baugor mud from 11 A.M. until darkness covers the outside weather.
