HARVARD SWAMPS TECH, 27-53.

Then followed the rest of the Tech team with one Harvard runner.

The points were scored by giving to each runner the point equal to the number of the place he secured, six men scoring for each team, the team with the least total winning.

The order of finishing and times were:
1, M. S. Crosby, '08, H., 24m. 44 4-5s.; 2, R. E. Dole, '10, H., 24m. 59s.; 3, C. Lanier, '10, H., 25m. 6s.; 4, W. T. MacCreddie, '11, T., 25m. 10s.; 5, R. Ellis, '09, T., 25m. 16s.; 6, E. W. Carter, '10, H., 25m. 16 2-5s.; 7, M. H. Whitney, '09, H., 25m. 25s.; 8, R. F. Hoyt, '10, H., 25m. 25s.; 9, C. L. Batchelder, '08, T., 25m. 35s.; 10, H. H. Howland, '08, T., 25m. 49s.; 11, E. L. Souder, '10, H., 25m. 49 1-5s.; 12, R. I. Hulsizer, '09, T., 25m. 50s.; 13, P. D. White, '11, T., 26m. 16s.; 14, L. C. Cooley, '11, T., 27m.; 15, S. M. Niles, '11, T., 27m. 6s.; 16, P. Woodman, '08, H., 27m. 9s.; 17, E. S. Howe, '09, T., no time; 18, M. Ames, '08, T., no time. Total score, Harvard 27, Technology 53.

TECH TO GIVE GRADUATE COURSES.

life of teaching is more enticing than practical work."

President Noyes said further that the man who achieves the highest success not only carries along existing processes, but improves the old and originates new processes. That it is always hard to get time to do original work, President Noyes admitted, but he urged that it was the one thing to be striven for and told of the remark that a man gets his salary for doing what he is paid for, and gets his advancement for doing more work than he is paid for.

After calling attention to the need for closer relations between student and instructor, and to the satisfaction which the teacher feels, in the development of a student, Prof. Swain spoke of the six qualities which he considers necessary for success, saying in part:

"The first quality is judgment and tact—the ability to thoroughly grasp a problem, see all its elements in their true perspective, properly weigh them and form a correct opinion as to the course to pursue, and then to follow that course in a way that will not call up criticism and ill feeling. This quality is paid for the highest.

"Second, comes character, which consists of honesty, integrity, and all the other qualities of high character. It is hard to see which of these first two qualities is the more important, but it is certain that a man may be perfectly honest and yet, because he lacks judgment, be a failure.

"The third quality is a trained mind—a mind trained in habits of thoughts which will enable it to take up any new problem and attack it successfully. No matter what training a man has received, with a trained mind he can do anything. There is one graduate of the Civil Engineering Department who is now a clergyman.

"Fourth, experience. It is less valuable than any of the other three, but still it is very valuable. A man with experience has a great asset, and this is the more valuable if he uses the experience of others. Fifth, comes personal qualities, by which I mean the personal attributes, manners, graces and address, which tend to make a favorable impression, and, last, knowledge, which is the mere acquisition of facts in the mind."

Bursar Rand was on deck with a long list of good stories and it was not until he was at the end of his speech that he became serious. He then said:

"After you have graduated, be loyal to Tech. Remember the good times and the Union. You'll forget the hard lessons and the grind, but you'll remember the pleasant things. We need your support and loyalty. President Tucker has truthfully said that the success of an educational institution is in the loyalty of its sons. Remember that just in so far as you succeed you reflect credit on the Institute."
