The Red Mill has come to Boston from the Red Mill Inn and is taken by the fine comedians, Montgomery and Stone. The story as to how they get out of their predicament is the plot of the play.

"NOT OUR FAULT WE ARE HERE." So says Dr. Fitch to the Y. M. C. A.

Dr. A. P. Fitch, of the Mount Vernon church, in his talk to the Y. M. C. A. yesterday, said that students need in more desolation and help themselves. He gave an incident in the life history of David to indicate what scientific men owe to the great body of truths that has been written, often with great peril to the lives of the men who obtained them. He said:

"We are responsible for its continuance.

Our responsibility is to unite a large group with an understanding of the science, often with great peril to the lives of the men who obtained it."

The game was hotly contested, the Freshmen 16 to 14. After the game the Sophomores have the benefit of more experience, but it is doubtful if they will be able to last as long. The Sophomores have the advantage of their team. The Freshmen have a strong, husky team, and the men are in excellent condition for a long pull. The Sophomores are along different lines. 1910 is strong. The Freshmen excel in speed, while Harvard Red and in character and their points of strength are along different lines.

The chances are slightly in favor of 1910. Both teams are remarkably fast and strong. The Freshmen excel in speed, while the Sophomores are heavy and have a strong line.

The tug-of-war should be very even if both teams come up to what is expected of them. The Freshmen have a strong, husky team, and the men are in excellent condition for a long pull. The chances are slightly in favor of 1910. Both teams are remarkably fast and strong. The Freshmen excel in speed, while the Sophomores are heavy and have a strong line.

Relay won by '06.

F. Glazier, H. T. Hemmenway, B. Reynolds.

M. B. Hall, J. Avery, D. Brown, Jr., A. Cummings, P. Hart, K. D. Fernstrom.