Gassaway and Gimson are Giving Others Hard Race.

Trials for the Cross Country Team to represent Tech in the Intercollegiate championship are scheduled for tomorrow on the track at Bravardale. This team is in one up to a crown, and the distance that will be run will be six and one quarter miles, the length of the hundred thousand that is run at the intercollegiate race.

Conditions will thus be more favorable for this new track and field event than have been present lately. Prominent among these are Callaway and Gimson.

Gassaway has always been one of the fleet-footed sprinters. He has been permitted from competing this season, being confined to the third place in the cross country race with Harwood 1908, and ha-ilt mile at the finish line and the same distance in the third and fourth miles at the intercollegiates. He also was the top man in a various meet with Amherst, and performed well in the inter-lane games the same year.

Last fall he was the captain of the Cross Country Team and did distric-tious work. He was the top man in the third in the Harvard ten and placed himself well in the first and second mile at the intercollegiates. He still was the top man in a various meet with Amherst, and performed well in the inter-lane games the same year.
