For Discussion.

"It is better to dream a question wrong than to answer it without dreaming it."

Nolli Arnold.

For several months the feeling has grown among the students and alumni that Institute men have no good opportunity to meet each other and to develop their social and practical sides. Although there are fraternities and clubs at technology, they give social opportunity to a limited number of men and are apt to have narrowing and isolating tendencies; and although the present Union has been extremely helpful as a supplement to the activities of the Institute, Noyes has pointed out, "mercifully inadvisable in regard to moving the Institute to a new site. Also, at least a discussion and cheer to the individual student and his relations. According to the plans described in Technique 1903, "A spacious and attractive memorial room, seventy cubic yards, in the Walker Memorial movement, fine for student welfare worthily of the Institute, with provisions for student welfare according to the plans of the Walker Memorial committee, the alumni, and the students through their organizations, to support this suggestion so that it may have weight with the Corporation in their action as regards the Walker Memorial Hall, a building owned by the Institute, as a sort of temporary home for student activities.

For Discussion.

The Institute Committee voted to call meetings of the four undergraduate classes, in order that the classes might express opinions on the proposed plan for using the Copley Hall building. The meetings will be in Boston Hall on the first of December. The classes will be addressed by the respective heads and members of the Institute Committees.

The Institute Committee called upon all undergraduate organizations to express opinions on the subject. The committee plans to appropriated enough money for an extra edition of this number of the Tech to be given away at the various class meetings in order that everyone might know about the proposed plan.

SUGGESTION ENDORSED.

(Continued from page 1.)

The Institute Committee voted to call meetings of the four undergraduate classes, in order that the classes might express opinions on the proposed plan for using the Copley Hall building. The meetings will be in Boston Hall on the first of December. The classes will be addressed by the respective heads and members of the Institute Committees.

The Institute Committee called upon all undergraduate organizations to express opinions on the subject. The committee plans to appropriated enough money for an extra edition of this number of the Tech to be given away at the various class meetings in order that everyone might know about the proposed plan.

For Discussion.

The Institute Committee voted to call meetings of the four undergraduate classes, in order that the classes might express opinions on the proposed plan for using the Copley Hall building. The meetings will be in Boston Hall on the first of December. The classes will be addressed by the respective heads and members of the Institute Committees.

The Institute Committee called upon all undergraduate organizations to express opinions on the subject. The committee plans to appropriated enough money for an extra edition of this number of the Tech to be given away at the various class meetings in order that everyone might know about the proposed plan.