NEW CATALOG CONTAINS CHANGES.

Important Alterations in Courses I, VI, and VII.

The new catalog is essentially the same as the last catalog, but contains some changes of interest to all the students. One interesting point is that the catalog has been revised this year, containing nearly a page of additional information which will be very helpful to the students. The catalog is in the possession and faculty have already been awarded the new catalog and are pleased with the revision. The catalog shows a decided progress in the department of astronomy and it is hoped that the interest of the students will be stimulated by this revision.

Student Memorial Brings To Present Undergraduates Something of Pres. Walker's Personality as His Students Knew It.

FRANCIS AMARGA WALKER,
SOLDIER ECONOMIST STATISTICIAN.

Born in Boston on the second day of July, 1850. Early years passed in New York, Brookfield, Mass. Graduated from Amherst College in 1870.

Enlisted in the war of the Union as a sergeant major in the fifth regiment of Massachusetts volunteers. Captured and exchanged. Transferred to Gen. Benjamin Butler's General.

At the 1910 class meeting Wednesday, Pres. Paulding was authorized to select a committee to act with committees from other classes in making up resolutions toward obtaining Copley Hall. At the 7th of the same month a special meeting of the students was held in Huntington Hall to adopt resolutions expressing the grief of the undergraduates.

A committee was appointed by the president to draw up a set of resolutions expressing the views of the association in regard to this matter. The committee consisted of Messrs. Mr. Paulding, Mr. Breck, and Mr. Reit."
