COPPER BEST CONDUCTOR.

Mr. W. F. Spangge gave the second of his talks on "Electrolysis in Mining" Friday afternoon, in 2 Degrees.

The relative qualities of aluminum and copper, and experimental tests of electric wires, were touched upon by Mr. Spangge. It is apparent, in fact, that aluminum is not as good as copper, a little copper is better, and it is at present. The more subject taken by Mr. Spangge was that of electric chemicals used in some work. The talk was illustrated by a tent.

How to Live Cheaply.

To the equipment of the micromedical and pathological laboratory has been added a large polarizing microscope. This instrument is especially designed for refined work in micromedical research and is distinct addition to the research equipment of the department. Eventually several special attachments will be added to this microscope.

Communication.

To the Editor of The Tech:

It is very essential that the notice of some of the "students of the Institute" be called to the fact that there is a very helpful organization which is not getting their support. This organization is among the strong ones of the United States, and should be put into the place which it holds.

This organization is the M. I. T. Catholic Club. Its purpose is to provide means by which its members may be refurnished and reformed after three weeks of summer vacation and get back to the Institute. This purpose is accomplished by helpful meetings at which work slides. At these meetings every interesting speaker and ancient artifact which tend to educate and elevate the body. The boys should be glad that there exists the Catholic Club which only religion is pursued at its meetings. It is supposed that each member gets the same. The club is called the Catholic Club that only religion is pursued at its meetings. It is supposed that each member gets this at his church, and needs none of it in these meetings.
