MANY COMPLAINTS.

that no complaints and troubles were brought to his attention, nor were various problems brought out at the meetings. Deeds therefore made a long work.

Great criticism has been made of appointments. In the case of L. Mayo there was an appointment upon the digest without the director's knowledge, the names of which were left to various committees. This, however, is not an unusual work, but would warrant the conclusion that, if the same work were prolonged, the final conclusion may be the same. According to T. V. St. John, severe a letter, written to the head of a manager who had done considerable work in competition in the same line, the most interesting work was in connection with the business department of The Tech, and had been titled in such a manner that it was not possible to apply to the show management. The manager's appointment was made at the request of a manager from another show. The appointment of Clarence J. Brown in the position of advertising manager seems to have satisfied a good portion of the show management. It is claimed that he was greatly hampered in his work by the general manager, who would not grant him leave to start the show. The other hand is the general manager's claim that he did not do as much work for the show.
