The Technology Review
A QUARTERLY MAGAZINE
DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF THE MASSACHUSETTS INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY AND
PUBLISHED BY THE ASSOCIATION OF CLASS SECRETARIES
83 NEWBURY STREET, BOSTON

The Review aims to develop closer relations among Institute men and to stimulate their interest in the work of the College. It is no sense an engineering magazine, but deals broadly with the problems of Technological Education and the responsibilities of the professional man.

THE REVIEW is published during January, April, July, and October. Communications should be addressed to The TECHNOLOGY REVIEW, 83 Newbury St., Boston.

SUBSCRIPTION, ONE DOLLAR A YEAR
SINGLE COPIES, THIRTY-FIVE CENTS

Volumes I., III., IV., V., VI., VII., VIII., and IX., finely bound in half morocco, are ready for delivery at $2.25 each, or will be exchanged for unbound sets, provided they are in good condition, at $1.25 each. (If sent by mail, 30 cents extra.)

man took first place in the Brown-Williams meet last Saturday.
In the shot put McDonald and Walcott of Brown placed first and second last Saturday, their distances being each less than two inches behind F. Moore and W. Morrison respectively, who won first and second places in the Maine meet.
The discus throw seems to be a hot fight between Nisbet and Kirley. The Tech man hurled the missile 106 feet 11 inches a week ago, while on the same day the old-timer from Brown threw it one foot less.
Without J. W. Mayhew, who is entered in seven events in the meet Technology would have an easy time, but with him in the game the issue of the meet will probably be in doubt until the very last event has been decided.

the professional societies, by reading the current technical journals, and following all new scientific literature. He spoke of self-confidence, honesty with one's self and willingness to work hard as the most important essentials to success in the field of chemistry.

S. W. Wilder, president of the Merrimack Chemical Company, talked on the requirements exacted of the young chemist by an employer, loyalty being his theme.

Isaac W. Littlefield 1885, spoke on the need of well rounded men in scientific lines. He urged the men not to go out with the idea that they must start in at the top.

That American manufacturers were highly inefficient in the handling of materials and their conversion into the finished product, was the view taken by Arthur D. Little 1885, chemical expert and engineer. A great deal of the perfection that had seemingly been attained in American commercial effort was due to wonderful efficiency on the office end. Mr. Little sighted many instances of short sighted manufacturing methods which had been remedied by the work of the chemists.

A delightful toastmaster was provided in the host, Dr. Talbot. Among those present at the dinner were: Dr. A. A. Noyes, acting president of the Institute; Prof. Dugald C. Jackson, head of the electrical engineering course; Dr. Gilbert N. Lewis, director of the research laboratory of physical chemistry; members of the Institute chemistry department, and members of the senior class.

GIVES GOLD AND SILVER.

Dr. James Bartlett of Brookline has contributed to the mining department a collection of gold and silver ore for experimental purposes. The ore came from the Box Canon Mine on the Snake River, Oregon, and from mines in Utah.
