TRIUMPHAL PROCESSION

THE TECH

Vol. XXVII. No. 96
BOSTON, MASS., TUESDAY, JUNE 9, 1908
PRICE FIVE CENTS

TRIUMPHAL PROCESSION

L. B. Hedge, XV. D. Ford.

CHARACTERISTIC SPEECHES.

The seniors who read abstracts of their theses were given the degree of bachelor of science, while twenty-three also had conferred upon them the degree of bachelor of science. The analsis was the conclusion of the theses together with the course they represented.

The seniors who read abstracts of the theses were given the degree of bachelor of science, while twenty-three also had conferred upon them the degree of bachelor of science. The analsis was the conclusion of the theses together with the course they represented.

The seniors who read abstracts of the theses were given the degree of bachelor of science, while twenty-three also had conferred upon them the degree of bachelor of science. The analsis was the conclusion of the theses together with the course they represented.

THEME OF BACCALAUREATE SERMON.

Hodges, outlining his idea of the purpose of the Institute and its work, pointed out that it is the purpose of the Institute to teach men for some specific industry and not for the general education. It is not the purpose of the Institute to teach men how to be influential for good, but to teach them how to be influential for good.

FANS FLUTTER AS 1908 HOLDS CLASSDAY RITES.

NEW PANELS OF FRIEZE UNVEILED.

N. W. Lozier, class president, and all the speakers were by the class of 1905. The text was from St. John, xvii, 10: "For their sakes I sanctified myself." At the beginning of his discourse Dr. Hodges, outlining his idea of the purpose of the Institute and its work, pointed out that it is the purpose of the Institute to teach men for some specific industry and not for the general education. It is not the purpose of the Institute to teach men how to be influential for good, but to teach them how to be influential for good.

THEME OF BACCALAUREATE SERMON.

Hodges, outlining his idea of the purpose of the Institute and its work, pointed out that it is the purpose of the Institute to teach men for some specific industry and not for the general education. It is not the purpose of the Institute to teach men how to be influential for good, but to teach them how to be influential for good.

TRIUMPHAL PROCESSION

SENIORS URGED TO WORK

END OF SENIOR DINNER.

TRIUMPHAL PROCESSION

SUCCESSFUL AND ENTHUSIASTIC BANQUET HELD THURSDAY AT THE AMERICAN HOUSE.

Senior Week was inaugurated with the annual Senior Banquet at the American House on Thursday, June 4th. After the dinner the entire party, headed by some of the most enthusiastic members in turn, marched up Boylston street to Rogers steps, where they received their graduation notices.

Samuel H. Doolittle, acting treasurer, and all the speeches were by the class of 1905. The text was from St. John, xvii, 10: "For their sakes I sanctified myself." At the beginning of his discourse Dr. Hodges, outlining his idea of the purpose of the Institute and its work, pointed out that it is the purpose of the Institute to teach men for some specific industry and not for the general education. It is not the purpose of the Institute to teach men how to be influential for good, but to teach them how to be influential for good.

THEME OF BACCALAUREATE SERMON.

Hodges, outlining his idea of the purpose of the Institute and its work, pointed out that it is the purpose of the Institute to teach men for some specific industry and not for the general education. It is not the purpose of the Institute to teach men how to be influential for good, but to teach them how to be influential for good.

TRIUMPHAL PROCESSION

SUCCESSFUL AND ENTHUSIASTIC BANQUET HELD THURSDAY AT THE AMERICAN HOUSE.

Senior Week was inaugurated with the annual Senior Banquet at the American House on Thursday, June 4th. After the dinner the entire party, headed by some of the most enthusiastic members in turn, marched up Boylston street to Rogers steps, where they received their graduation notices.

Samuel H. Doolittle, acting treasurer, and all the speeches were by the class of 1905. The text was from St. John, xvii, 10: "For their sakes I sanctified myself." At the beginning of his discourse Dr. Hodges, outlining his idea of the purpose of the Institute and its work, pointed out that it is the purpose of the Institute to teach men for some specific industry and not for the general education. It is not the purpose of the Institute to teach men how to be influential for good, but to teach them how to be influential for good.

THEME OF BACCALAUREATE SERMON.

Hodges, outlining his idea of the purpose of the Institute and its work, pointed out that it is the purpose of the Institute to teach men for some specific industry and not for the general education. It is not the purpose of the Institute to teach men how to be influential for good, but to teach them how to be influential for good.

TRIUMPHAL PROCESSION

SUCCESSFUL AND ENTHUSIASTIC BANQUET HELD THURSDAY AT THE AMERICAN HOUSE.

Senior Week was inaugurated with the annual Senior Banquet at the American House on Thursday, June 4th. After the dinner the entire party, headed by some of the most enthusiastic members in turn, marched up Boylston street to Rogers steps, where they received their graduation notices.

Samuel H. Doolittle, acting treasurer, and all the speeches were by the class of 1905. The text was from St. John, xvii, 10: "For their sakes I sanctified myself." At the beginning of his discourse Dr. Hodges, outlining his idea of the purpose of the Institute and its work, pointed out that it is the purpose of the Institute to teach men for some specific industry and not for the general education. It is not the purpose of the Institute to teach men how to be influential for good, but to teach them how to be influential for good.

THEME OF BACCALAUREATE SERMON.

Hodges, outlining his idea of the purpose of the Institute and its work, pointed out that it is the purpose of the Institute to teach men for some specific industry and not for the general education. It is not the purpose of the Institute to teach men how to be influential for good, but to teach them how to be influential for good.

TRIUMPHAL PROCESSION

SUCCESSFUL AND ENTHUSIASTIC BANQUET HELD THURSDAY AT THE AMERICAN HOUSE.

Senior Week was inaugurated with the annual Senior Banquet at the American House on Thursday, June 4th. After the dinner the entire party, headed by some of the most enthusiastic members in turn, marched up Boylston street to Rogers steps, where they received their graduation notices.

Samuel H. Doolittle, acting treasurer, and all the speeches were by the class of 1905. The text was from St. John, xvii, 10: "For their sakes I sanctified myself." At the beginning of his discourse Dr. Hodges, outlining his idea of the purpose of the Institute and its work, pointed out that it is the purpose of the Institute to teach men for some specific industry and not for the general education. It is not the purpose of the Institute to teach men how to be influential for good, but to teach them how to be influential for good.

THEME OF BACCALAUREATE SERMON.

Hodges, outlining his idea of the purpose of the Institute and its work, pointed out that it is the purpose of the Institute to teach men for some specific industry and not for the general education. It is not the purpose of the Institute to teach men how to be influential for good, but to teach them how to be influential for good.