TUG-OF-WAR TEAMS HARD AT WORK
Scarcity of Men for Both Teams Prohibits Development

FRESHMEN HEAVIEST
Manager Woodwards Puts Freshmen Through Strength Tests and Duties

Tug-of-war practice is progressing with more vigor, both teams working hard to meet the challenge. The outlook still favors the freshmen, who get more men out than the sophomores and seem to go into the work with more energy than the latter. More men are needed for both teams and it is too late to get out yet.

An erroneous idea has been generally circulated that each of the pulls on Field Day will be only two hours long. This is out of the question as a matter of course.

M. S. WOODWARD

strongest tests at the gym Monday previous to practice. Manager Woodwards is working his team hard and hopes to get more men out. The following lineup was announced:

The relay squad, composed of the freshmen especially furnishing a large contingent of runners, will be picked.

RELAY SQUAD PICKED
Freshman Trials Show Good Times Despite Wind

Attendance at the freshman preliminary relay race trials was exceptionally large, more than thirty men being present. The weather was rainy and the condition of the track and the still, heavy blowing, good times were made. The first eight men selected were:

1. W. A. Webster
2. D. F. Jones
3. C. A. Howard
4. C. M. Polk
5. C. R. Cottrell
6. B. M. Ferry
7. A. B. Gardner
8. E. H. Houghton

These men will represent the freshmen in the 220 yard dash.

SUFFRAGETTES AT WORK
Handbills Posted in Institute Building Corridors

A new phase of political activity has manifested itself at the Institute in the current sentiment to let the presidential campaign and the parlous condition of women suffrage be left to the public eye. Attention, someone has posted it well, has already been given to the main doors of the various buildings. It is not known who is responsible for these placards, but interest in them has been shown by many students.

The arguments are directed at the voters as well as women, it is said, and the advocates of the cause that much good can be hoped for from work in this line among men as well as women in order to accomplish their ends.

Manager Woodwards has the following statement to make:

"Experiences in Palestine" was the subject of an interesting talk by Mr. Seth K. Thimphrey at the Technology Club last evening. The occasion was the first smoke talk of the season.

Senior Election Committee votes to call for a new ballot, Article 59

After careful consideration of the man nominated for the office of secretary and of methods of election the senior election committee has been elected. The nominal list, corrected for all violations of Institute Council rulings, is as follows:

For president: E. S. Ellis, E. G. Mann, A. C. Crittleden, L. D. Nisbet.

For secretary: J. I. Emerson, E. L. Usaalt.

For treasurer: B. Ellis, B. Millard, A. W. Strong.

Nominations will remain as they were but it was decided after long discussion to call for a new ballot.

SUFFRAGETTES AT WORK
Handbills Posted in Institute Building Corridors

A new phase of political activity has manifested itself at the Institute in the current sentiment to let the presidential campaign and the parlous condition of women suffrage be left to the public eye. Attention, someone has posted it well, has already been given to the main doors of the various buildings. It is not known who is responsible for these placards, but interest in them has been shown by many students.

The arguments are directed at the voters as well as women, it is said, and the advocates of the cause that much good can be hoped for from work in this line among men as well as women in order to accomplish their ends.

Manager Woodwards has the following statement to make:

"Experiences in Palestine" was the subject of an interesting talk by Mr. Seth K. Thimphrey at the Technology Club last evening. The occasion was the first smoke talk of the season.