HOTEL BRUNSWICK EUROPEAN AND AMERICAN PLANS

HERBERT H. BARNES, Proprietor

GOVERNOR FORBES

of the question he had chosen for his subject "Public Works." He gave an outline of the conditions under the Spanish rule as they existed when the Americans took charge. In the short time they have been there, American engineers have learned lessons from the lasting works of their predecessors and from experience, in regard to the inadvisability of any kind of temporary construction. When the Americans first took possession the policy was to build somehow and quickly, but now every thing is built in a permanent fashion to begin with. The result of this has been a marked economy. Mr. Forbes went on to show the spirit of the Filipinos in taking up the matter of road building who even increased the taxes on themselves for these purposes.

He closed with a few words on the work Mr. Taft had done in the Islands, the serious problems he had faced and the difficulties he had overcome. He attributed the present state of the government and the cooperation of the natives to his influence and ability.

President Noyes dismissed the convocation with a few words on the torch-light procession which follow:

I should not speak of this at all, were it not for serious conflict between our students and the police which took place on a similar occasion four years ago and about which certain incendiary articles have appeared recently in the newspapers. All I wish to do is to make known to you the fact that the trouble of four years ago started simply from one of those unfortunate misunderstandings which sometimes occur in spite of the best intentions on the part of everybody. The police had received orders from the Commissioner of Police, at the request of the Institute authorities, to keep the public off the Rogers steps, in order that the large audience which was attending a Lowell Institute lecture in Huntington Hall that evening might get out. It was not intended that this should apply to Institute students who might gather there after the hall was emptied and the procession was over; but this was not made clear to the police and unfortunately there was no opportunity to make the order itself known to the students. Consequently while on the one hand the students not unnaturally demanded access to their own steps, on the other hand, the police were merely obeying their orders in restraining them. The whole thing, as I say, was simply a misunderstanding. It is true that a few individual members of the police in executing the order used unwarrantable violence; but they were punished for this after a careful investigation; and it is to be remembered that though it is not an excuse it is at least an extenuation that they did this under conditions of great excitement and without any previous experience in dealing with a surging crowd of students. I therefore wish you to realize that there is not the least ground in the world for a feeling of antagonism on your part towards the police of this city; and to express the hope that in order to clearly show the public that you have no such feeling you will assist the police in maintaining the order which the citizens of a great city have a right to demand.

Just one word more. Possibly you do not all know that the candidate for governor of the party in whose procession you are to march is a former student of the Institute and has been for years actively interested in its welfare. He counts on every Institute man to maintain the honor of his alma mater.

Finally, let me tell you that you will find no obstacle to the use of Rogers steps tomorrow evening, and that you can gather there for cheering to your heart's content.

NEW CHEF IN UNION

Several New Rooms Being Added to the Kitchen

Mr. Gibney, former chef of the Pilgrim hotel, has been displaced in the Union kitchen by Mr. C. A. Garrity. Mr. Garrity has had much experience in table management. He comes here from the Point Shirley Club in Winthrop, which used to be the "Old Taft's" hotel. Before this he served in the Hotel Buckminster, in the Merchant's Hotel, St. Paul, Minn., in the old Leland House in Chicago, at Dunster Hall on the Harvard "Gold Coast," and for five years at Stubenrauch's Rathskeller on Summer street. He plans to make a specialty of combination dinners.

In the kitchen a new storage room and pantry are being built. Also in the court yard back of the kitchen, a butcher shop has been erected. This well ventilated room will contain several cold storage chests, and will be used to cut all the meats so that they are ready to go right on the stove. A garbage box is also to be built which will displace the numerous refuse barrels now in the court yard.

As soon as these changes have been completed, Mr. Garrity will invite inspection of his kitchen at all hours.

At present there are about 150 regular boarders at the Union.

The numbers at breakfast are increasing, some mornings averaging as high as 180. From 40 to 100 attend the Sunday family dinners which are especially good.

If any dinners are being planned, Mr. Garrity will be in the kitchen from 7 to 9, 12 to 3, and from 6 to 8 P. M., to talk over plans with those in charge.

The engagement is announced of Miss Marguerite L. Williams, Wellesley, 1908, to Philip C. Brown, 1908, Harvard, 1907.

The engagement is announced of Miss Lillian Alley, Wellesley, 1909, to Max Christopher Sherman, 1910.
