President of the Union, L. B. Brandes of Brundis, Dunbar, and St. John, one of the most prominent law firms of Boston. Mr. Brandes has chosen as his subject "The Recent Old Age Pension Movement," but he subject itself when Mr. Brandes, making point just as well as the "Migration of Sons" of four fifths of the experienced lawyer, a true man of a raving good talker, indeed is indeed capable. Although a young man Mr. Brandes is already one of the ablest and most prominent lawyer in Boston. A great deal of his time and attention has been devoted to the question of the New Haven group, as well as to other prominent cases in which he has appeared, simply as a matter of interest without any personal interest at stake, fighting simply for what was just and right.

Such a man is truly an ideal citizen and is one of the ablest and most important man of every one. Here is a chance for every Thorn to show his worth without stunting his own growth, and the opportunity should be grasped while it is within reach.

Frederick P. Fish. Theorning executive committee was yesterday notified by Professor to accept the offer of some of the finest men of the city to take charge of the．
