M. A. H. S. CLUB MEETS

Dean Burton and Secretary Merrill entertained the M. A. H. S. Club last night in the small hall of the Union with interesting talks on the Institute in 1885 and the Institute in 1909.

Prof. Merrill told of the small size of Technology at his time. He also entertained the men by showing them some early pictures of different Professors at present on the teaching staff of the Institute.

Dean Burton followed the talk by Prof. Merrill with an outline of the work cut out for the freshmen of next year's class, speaking of the joys due them in attending the delightful hours of "drill," and the possible chance that they had of winning "Field Day."
