The Tech takes pleasure in announcing the appointment of George Edward Hodge 1911, to the news staff.

Technique 1910 will be a big surprise. Those who know say that the emphasis is on the "big." Certain it is, at any rate, that this year's annual will be unique in many respects. All the essential characteristics of former Techniques will be found adhered to, but in many details many new departures may be looked for. It is rumored that all the surprises will not be confined between the covers, but that even in the Rush some elements of novelty may be expected.

With Junior Prom less than two weeks away and arrangements practically completed it seems about time that all the men intending to go signed up with the committee. Two hundred men are needed to make Prom a financial success, but as yet less than a hundred and fifty have signed. The biggest social event of the year, the one that has always, in past years, given the greatest amount of pleasure to the participants, may be in grave danger. Other Institute activities have come and gone through the failure of the men to take enough interest to insure success. Don't let the Prom go!

Wake up! Are all the athletes at Tech asleep? The intercollegiate relay races at Philadelphia are less than two weeks off and the number of men who have been working is very small. In spite of the untiring efforts of a most efficient coach and a considerable layout of money on improvements at the Field, the response of the men is disappointing. The older men are scarcely showing up at all, and they should be the nucleus of a championship track team this year.

It has been given as an excuse for this apathy that there are no dual meets. This very fact should be rather a reason why more men in order to get in shape for the intercollegiate, should get out and do it now. The senior class has never won a meet of any kind except their sophomore Field Day. There are three individual cups and a new class championship cup, presented by Major Briggs, to be competed for in the spring meet which comes off in three weeks. At the beginning of the season the prospects of a good chance for first in the intercollegiate, were excellent; at present, last place looks more probable. Therefore, athletes, wake up and get busy!

Freshmen are Only Ones Doing
 Steady Work—Fernstrom
 Will Not Run

All the chances of Technology making a good showing in the Intercollegiate are fast disappearing. At the beginning of the year everything pointed to a successful track season, with a fine chance of Tech winning the New England championship, but now last place seems more probable unless every man gets out and works.

K. D. Fernstrom 1910, now declares that he will not run this spring. While this will not in any way cripple the relay team, it leaves a big gap in the low hurdles, in which Fernstrom was expected to get second place. Capt. Carl W. Gram 1909, is not able to report regularly on account of his studies, but Coach Kanaly hopes he will be able to win several points for the Institute. W. J. Seligman 1911, is another man who is failing to report. Seligman is absolutely sure of a place in the 220 if he only reports once or twice a week. At present the only man in the 100 is Grant, the star freshman. He is by all odds the fastest man at this distance, and he is also doing good work in the low hurdles. In the 220 there is no one but Gram and Reed 1912.

In the quarter, there are several good men, and this is the only distance in which Coach Kanaly is satisfied. In J. I. Murray 1912, Kanaly thinks he has a find, if he will only train, and report regularly. "Bill" Salisbury 1911, is also running in good form, and he is without doubt as fast, if not faster, than he was last year. Besides these, there are P. D. White 1911, Gram, A. L. Moses 1910, M. A. Oettinger 1912, and S. E. Reed 1912.

The half-mile has only one real good man, White, although Ray Allen 1909, is showing up remarkably well at this distance. It is hardly possible, however, that he will run, as he is needed in the high jump, where he is doing good work. To aid White there are only three other men who are so far to be considered. They are F. F. Bell 1910, H. L. Lockett 1910, and C. L. Tuller 1912. Bell and Lockett are improving rapidly, but Tuller has not yet worked at this distance on account of cross-country work.

The cross-country men will be expected on the track in another week to train for the mile and two-mile. Of these the most likely is B. C. Huber 1910, who is doing surprisingly good work, and H. H. Howland 1909. Other good men are E. M. Potter 1910, W. T. MacCreddie 1911, J. F. McCarthy 1909, Van Alstine 1911, and H. S. Benson, and H. G. Watkins 1912.
