The Tech takes pleasure in announcing the appointment of Hamilton Miller to the business staff.

Congratulations are certainly in order for the relay team and Coach Kinsley. Although the time was not fast, the fact that a winning team was turned out on such short notice shows first some hard work has been done in the last two weeks. After the slow time made in the trials, the victory is a pleasant surprise. Much credit is due the members of the team who have been training hard for two months, as well as to those who have relied on their natural speed and only two weeks work, or less.

With the passing of Junior Week we have the realization of the fact that only one short month remains before the end of the term, with that excuse and other trivialities standing in line to make the poor student pay for the fun he may get later. Junior Week has been a glorious pleniluxus of occasions—yet it certainly does knock the desire to work out of a man, and in this age we do not furnish much of the rest from labor which optimists advertise to it. One month is a short time, and there is much to do. These facts may be somewhat small repetition becomes commonplace, but they deserve attention, and the other well-known phrase, "I wish we weren't serum blessed," while amidst pleasant to the person addressed.

Notice has been sent to all present and prospective members of the team in June. The information in the circular is definite and clear, and gives promise of much pleasure, and not a little benefit. Arrangements have been made for two big excursions, two dinners and smokers, an automobile ride from Boston to Medford, and a general succession of events from Friday to Tuesday which leaves little time unoccupied. Reunions like this are of great value to the alumni and the Institute. They bind the men together, and remind them they are a part of the institution which always shares their success and happiness. The men will be glad to invite their friends to share in their success and happiness.

Annual Spring

But can not compete with other colleges this year.

W. D. Allen will have the pole vault to himself and his classmates, R. F. Sullivan, should take a place in this event.

Greenfield 1912, and Gott will probably fill out the rest of this part of the program. The high jump will be a pretty duel between F. D. Baldwin 1912, and E. Stuart 1910, with R. E. Allen 1909, and L. S. Hooper 1912, close behind. W. J. Peab 1910, is doing good work in the broad jump and will give Greenfield, Hector and Gott a good run for it. With K. D. Ferrogto 1910, out of the hurle it looks like a toss up among H. B. Mass 1910, W. J. Peab 1910, W. L. Cummings 1910, and F. P. Bell 1910. The juniors have its whole program as a big haul of points from these events.

For first place, silver medal; for second place, bronze medal; for third place, an appropriate certificate. No entrance fee except the price of admission will be charged. Each spring, an independent league, for the class with which he has taken the most stud toma- of the year, and the class which has the greatest total of points for the entire year. This meet sets the championship for the year regardless of who wins the meet on Saturday.
