If you do not believe in woman suffrage, sign your schoolmate's name to the suffrage petition, between those of your favorite actress and your favorite professor.

If you do believe in woman suffrage, sign the names of such of your enemies as will not easily identify your acts, and of anyone else who is much laughed at, to the list opposed to your cause.

In any event, don't sign your own name.

Such is the process of purification, through wit and logic, of a great modern political issue. You can't kill a good thing by laughing at it.

Take a Brookline Village car and get off at Pond Ave. This is the way to Tech Field. You are going out tomorrow afternoon to see the inter-class championship track meet. You will have a fine time, and it will cost only 25 cents. Take a friend with you.

Carpenters of the Institute are building a sound-proof wall between the Tech office and the adjoining room in Engineering C. Which goes to show that the "echoes from the Union," as quoted in Technique, are unwelcome in certain quarters.

CONFIRMS ELECTIONS

1912 Agrees to Committee Choice And Discusses Auditing

A meeting of the class of 1912 was called by President H. D. Kemp yesterday at one o'clock in Huntington Hall. The following elections by the executive committee were submitted to the class and confirmed: J. C. Duyser, manager of tug-of-war team; M. C. Cherry, manager of baseball team; J. E. Whittillsey, manager of football team; and C. H. Albee, manager of basket ball team. The resignation of M. C. Cherry as baseball manager was presented and accepted. J. I. Murray, F. W. Barker, and A. Eicher were nominated to fill the vacancy. Eicher declined the nomination, and Murray was elected.

The question of oversight of class elections by the Institute Committee and of a proposed auditing committee, were discussed, but left upon the table until the next meeting.

TWO GAMES TOMORROW

1911 Takes Long Trip to Wolfboro N.H.—1912 Plays Natick High

Both Technology class baseball teams have good games scheduled for tomorrow afternoon. The sophomores will take the longest trip ever taken by a Tech nine, when they go to Wolfboro, N. H., to play the crack Brewster Academy team. Little is known of the Granite State boys, but the Tech men have improved greatly since the season opened, and a fast time will be handed the New Hampshire neighbors.

The freshmen are up against Natick High School on their grounds. The school boys are playing ball and should give the visitors all they want to take care of.

The probable lineups of the Institute teams will be:

1912—McAvoy 2b, Eicher ss, Cherry 1b, Foster 3b, Allen rf or p, McGuire cf, Sloan p or rf, Taylor c, Coulson lf, Whipple rf.

1911—Pearson p or cf, Harrington lf, Williams c, Odell 1b, Hufsmith 2b, O'Neil 3b, Parker p or ss, McLaughlin ss, Metcalf cf, Stevens rf.

UNION NIGHT TONIGHT

District Attorney Hill to Speak to Students at Union

Tonight at the Union the next to last of the Friday night entertainments will take place. The committee in charge has been exceedingly fortunate in securing the services of District Attorney Hill of Essex county. He will speak on "The Young Man in Public Office."

District Attorney Hill is one of the most promising lawyers of the Massachusetts bar. Quite recently, at the death of John B. Moran, he was appointed by Governor Draper to the office of district attorney. His talk should prove most interesting. A large attendance is expected.

The committee in charge of the entertainments at the Union announces that the final entertainment will be a grand smoker. The date will be announced later.

jects. Work well done is the best recommendation for more work. The first five or ten years are spent getting experience and learning how to make one's self wanted and necessary to the employer. After this, experience tells, and positions of trust and preferment follow.

Men naturally desire leading positions. The quality of leadership depends on ability to judge qualifications of other men, ability to make use of other men, to keep subordinates happy when not advancing them faster than the industry permits, the having of a definite policy, and being able at the end of each year to satisfy directors, stockholders, and the public. A man cannot rise to a high position in the mining industry without these qualities. These qualities cannot be obtained except a man has the wide training mentioned previously. That the mining course as given by the Institute fulfills these requirements is attested by the large number of its graduates who are now Superintendents, Managers, and Presidents of some of the most important mining and metallurgical companies.

The qualifications for the N. R. A. button will be held at the Wakefield Range on Saturday, May 1st. Train leaves North Station at 2:15 P. M.
