The Tech takes pleasure in announcing the appointments of Nathaniel McLean Sage 1912, and Louis Sebastian Walsh 1912, to the news staff, and of Frederick William Barker, Jr., 1912, to the business staff.

As usual, the athletes did some excellent work at the inter-class meet, and as usual, the crowd was miserably small.

If Tech should win the intercollegiate, or even get second place, there are a lot of people around the Institute whose chests would swell out, and their crow would be loud and lusty. But when it comes to supporting the team by their presence, even at the cost of only a quarter, they conveniently have another engagement.

The most critical period in the development of the track team is just at this time, and the class meet was postponed till Saturday so as to bring out the greatest possible interest. Some have responded nobly, but if the general attitude of the Institute in athletics on the part of both those who are and those who are not athletes, is indicated by the attendance at the spring meet, then we may soon expect to hear that the spirit of Technology is dead. If athletics, the largest undergraduate activity, fails to get a response from Institute men, what will be the fate of the others? The question is put to you. Think about it.

FOURTH ANNUAL DINNER

Harvard-Tufts High School Men to be at Mechanic Arts Dinner

Wednesday night the Mechanic Arts Club will hold its fourth annual dinner at the Union. Dr. C. W. Parmenter, headmaster of the school, Mr. Herbert S. Weaver, headmaster of the Girl's High School of Practical Arts, Charles W. Reed, junior master of Mechanic Arts, and A. J. Rafter, supervisor of Mechanic Arts, will speak. The M. I. T. Orchestra will furnish music. Mechanic Arts men from Harvard and Tufts and the fourth year class at the school have been invited and from present indications over thirty of them will be on hand. A goodly percentage of the members of the Club are also expected to attend.

Tickets should be procured at once from H. K. Spencer 1909, H. P. Wasserboehr 1910, H. M. Davis 1911, or H. O. Maxwell 1912.

MINING ENG. SOCIETY

Dinner to be Held Wednesday 6.30 Talks by Faculty Members

The annual dinner of the Mining Engineering Society will be held at Lombardy Inn Wednesday, May 12, at 6: 30. Professors Richards, Warren, Locke, Bugbee and Hofman of the faculty are expected to be present and give short talks. Prof. Lodge, formerly of the Mining Engineering Department, will be present and speak.

Mr. Edmund Billings of the Boston Civic League, who was sent over to Messina at the time of the earthquake there, to manage the Massachusetts fund, will speak on the earthquake, probably from a geological standpoint.

A most interesting and enjoyable time is expected. All members are urged to be present.
