Have you begun yet on the midnight oil?

The entertainment committee is to be commended for its action in getting up an entertainment for the visitors from other colleges who will be here for the track meet this week. An event of this kind is sure to foster good feeling among the colleges, and gives men from all parts of New England an opportunity for getting acquainted. The committee has arranged a novel program and leaves it to the men at Technology to give their guests the most enjoyable time of their visit.

It is too late now for Tech men to complain because the chances of winning the intercollegiate this year have practically disappeared. The only thing left to be done is to support the team that has been developed in spite of many handicaps and the unusual apathy of the student body. Coach Kanaly has done a lot of hard work getting the men in shape, and Capt. Gram has a team of Tech men who are true to the heart and will put up one of the gamest fights for the intercollegiate that ever happened. But they will need encouragement to be able to do their best. They will do their best work if the grand stand and bleachers are full of loyal, noisy, enthusiastic Tech men who will fill the air with Tech songs and cheers, and let the team know how the fellows really care. Get out and put this season through to the most successful issue possible, and leave next year's chances for later.

"See the statement on page 5 and 6 in regard to means of procuring these books and in regard to inexpensive editions of them."—From the Summer Reading List.

Of all the delicious bits of irony that have cropped out during the year the above quotation embodies one of the choicest. A saving of $3.45 is at least a matter of passing interest to the average Tech man. Motley's "Dutch Republic" can be purchased complete in the Everyman's edition for $1.05. The "inexpensive" edition costs $4.50. Other discrepancies, similar but not so marked, are to be distinguished. It should be the aim of the faculty to induce the men, if possible, to become the owners as well as readers of these books. Neat, well gotten up and well-printed volumes costing 35 cents are far more likely to be purchased by the majority than are the better appearing but more expensive copies.

COMPANY "A" DINNER

Winning Company Dines Saturday Evening at 8 in Union

Company A, the winning company in the battalion prize drill, will have its dinner Saturday evening at eight o'clock in the Union. Maj. Wheeler and Maj. Bigelow will be present and are expected to speak. The arrangements for the dinner are in charge of Adj. J. A. Herley 1911, the chairman of the prize drill committee. The officers and non-commissioned officers of Co. A, who were responsible for its success and who will probably be at the dinner are Capt. C. S. Anderson 1911; First Lieut. L. R. Golden 1911; Second Lieut. A. R. Davis 1912; First Sergt. H. D. Kemp; Sergeants P. W. Dalrymple, W. W. Lang, J. S. Selfredge and J. A. Boyer; Corps. H. I. Johnson, B. S. Silverman, R. B. Stone, H. W. Coddington and T. B. Prouty, all the non-commissioned officers being 1912. First Sergeant Kemp also won the individual competitive drill.

This dinner is an annual feature given to the winning company by the prize drill committee from the profits from the interscholastic prize drill. This is the last dinner that men from 1912 will have as freshmen, and every member of the company should attend as the dinner can be made a complete success only by a full attendance.
