Preparation for the Institute

NE of the most important factors in the success of a student at the Institute is a thorough preparation. Chauncey Hall School prepares exclusively for the Institute, and the purpose is not merely to train its candidates to pass the entrance examinations but to give them intelligent observation, accuracy in reasoning, and facility in expression. The teachers are men who are specialists in their several departments.

This is the only school devoting all its energies to the preparation of candidates for the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

After September first the school will be located in Copley Square, at 533 Boylston Street, which is being remodelled for that purpose.

The school will be supplied with new furniture and new laboratory equipment throughout, and will offer to its students the very best opportunities for preparing men for the Institute have been shown to be desirable.
