FRESHMAN DINNER
Under the Auspices of The Tech Daily

The first and perhaps the greatest social event of the year as far as the freshman class is concerned, will be held at the Union next Saturday evening in the form of a class dinner. The arrangements are in charge of the "Tech" Board, the Union and the faculty members of the staff.

The list of speakers has not yet been completed, but a partial list is now ready. Dean Burton will speak upon the various phases of the Institute life. Walter D. Burnham will explain the experiences, both wholesome and wholesome, of the students. George W. S. Root will explain the history of the Union and state its importance and the great times for all concerned.

For the first time in the summer the subject of military drill came in for part of the criticisms. President Macaulay has stated that in the past there has been a tendency among the students in the various classes to avoid attending by any means the drill. Consequently, the arrangement to make attendance a matter of necessity.

In the past, the freshmen have not been able to attend the class in behalf of the alumni. It is hoped that Burser Rand will attend this year.

The first meeting was well attended. The entire crew stationed outside the door, but there were no hostile welcome. An otherwise promising show was not entirely successful.

For the past two years has taken this show before the public, and has been an excellent success. The show which appears in The Tech, and which is considered as the largest and most successful show given in the country, is under the management of the Tech Daily.

The show started in 1899 with a "Three Musketeers" and has taken on its present form since 1903. For the past year it has been under the management of Mr. E. W. Wilson. This year it will be under the management of Mr. E. W. Wilson.

The show will be a happy and profitable trip for all concerned.
