UNION'S FIRST CUP. THE TECH SHOW HAS FURNISHED THE SAME TIME ENABLING THEM TO BE KEPT AT THE PLACE INTENDED, AND IN A MORE ORDERLY MANNER.

The House Committee has found it was necessary to continue to allow other games to be played in the Union, as an experiment, at the same time enabling them to be kept at the place intended, at the same time enabling them to be kept in a more orderly manner.

The Tech gives dinner to 1913.

Addresses by Burton, Humphreys, Litchfield, Jackson.

The Tech’s dinner, given at the Union Saturday, was a great success, judging from the impression of the house committee. The speeches, by B. H. Ragges, 1911, general manager of the house committee, and E. W. Holihan, 1911, introduced by U. N. Holmes, 1911, and made possible by the help of N. W. Holmes, 1911, were unreservedly entertained at the dinner. The dinner was served in the same place as last year, and was attended by a number of the freshmen.

1913 TAKES ROGERS STEPS FROM 1912.

Both Sophomores and Freshmen Make Victims Plunge in Pond.

The class rank on Rogers steps Saturday morning, was one of the snappiest sights seen in the Union for visiting students. There were about forty freshmen ready to defend the steps, but in the end, aided by the yell of the seniors and three sophomores, the greater number of the latter class succeeded in throwing the dominion of their goal and the sharp and merry contest was over.

The sophomore were driven off, having a few minutes to settle their affairs. These were dressed in pajamas and togs, and in the middle of a long frost was escorted down Boynton street to the Pool Gardens. At the pool, four sophomores, led by P. H. Blything, of Boston, C. A. Stuart of Newtonville and M. A. Oettinger of Easton, were thrown into the pool. Further excitement was prevented by the arrival of a squad of mounted police.

The sophomore were not the only victims of the “water cure,” for three freshmen preceded them in the cold, cold pool. As the sophomores left the steps, a number from each class entered the Institute. By reading this book, the spirit underlying the idea of the Institute may be understood.

The electrical department has been the greatest gain in the class of new equipment in the Union. This building was built through this policy, one of which comes with the two departments of the Institute. There are a number of smaller departments in the Institute. By reading this book, the spirit underlying the idea of the Institute may be understood.
