SOPHOMORES MEET DEAN ACADEMY TO-DAY

Comparison With 1913 Possible Week's Practice Gives Enthusiasm

The 1912 team meets Dean Academy at Franklin this afternoon in the second game on its schedule. About twenty men have been working hard every night at the oval under Coach Matters, and they are in fine shape.

1912 held Dean down to six points last year, in spite of the fact that the latter had an exceptionally heavy team. With practically the same men playing, the added experience of the sophomores, shown by the splendid work in holding the crack Waltham eleven to five points last Saturday, should turn the tables in their favor this year.

The result of today's game ought to furnish excellent material for a comparison of the sophomore and freshman elevens, as 1913 played Dean last Wednesday, winning by a score of 5-0. The teams were very evenly matched, and the way 1912 shows up today should indicate the sort of contest to be looked for on Field Day between 1912 and 1913.

The following is the probable lineup:
1912 Dean
Robinson, l.e. . . . . r.c., Shaw
Whittlesey, l.t. . . . . r.t., Berry
Kebbon, l.g. . . . . r.g., McKenna
Swanson, c. . . . . c., Robbins
Kimball, r.g. . . . . l.g., Webster
Barnes, r.t. . . . . l.t., Woodward
Torrey, r.e. . . . . l.e., May
Eicher, q.b. . . . . q.b., Baffett
McClosky, l.h. . . . . r.h., Jordan
Raymond, r.h. . . . . l.h., Chamberlain
Beale, f.b. . . . . f.b., Houston

ON WELLESLEY COURSE

Hare and Hounds Run To-Day With Coach Kanaly

Around Lake Waban, at Wellesley, is the course of this afternoon's hare and hounds run. The train leaves Trinity Place at 2:09 P. M. A special car will be reserved for the benefit of those going.

The Wellesley run each year brings out a large number, as it is usually considered the best of all the runs. The former course around Lake Waban will be taken and the men divided between the fast and slow squads. For the new men, the slow division will be a decided benefit, as they will not find the work too hard, even if out for the first time. In order to pace the men and observe their work, Coach Kanaly will run with the men. The round trip fare is thirty cents.

On the return from the run, there will be a dinner for the hare and hounds men at the Union at six. The speakers will probably be Major Briggs, Dr. Rockwell and F. H. Hunter 1902. The price of tickets is forty cents.

MACLAURIN HONORED

At the inauguration of President Ernest L. Nichols as tenth president of Dartmouth College, the honorary degree of Doctor of Science was conferred upon President Maclaurin of the Institute. Honorary degrees of Doctor of Divinity and Doctor of Law were conferred upon seventeen other college presidents and the Governor of New Hampshire.

MECH. ENG. SOCIETY DINNER ON TUESDAY

Prominent Professors of This Department To Address Gathering

The Mechanical Engineering Society will hold its first dinner at the Union, Tuesday, Oct. 19, 1909, at 6:30 P. M. At this dinner a number of the prominent professors in the course will speak. The plans for the year will be discussed, and excursions to various points of engineering interest will be considered.

As the membership in the society is open to all men in the third and fourth years of Courses II and X, it is hoped that any men not already members and now eligible will make it a point to come. It is the purpose of the society, in order that its benefits may be the greatest possible, to enroll all men who are eligible. A large number of members insures a larger attendance at its meetings, and this in turn makes it possible to have the best speakers, as they wish to be assured of a good audience. The speakers for this dinner are Professors Lanza, Miller, Haven and Hayward. It is expected that they will speak of the objects of the society, how they have been fulfilled and by making suggestions how they may be extended in the future.

The shingle design competition which was announced last Monday, will be discussed, and a few additional announcements will be made with reference to it.

All interested are welcome at the dinner, for which the tickets are 50 cents. As it is desired to know the number to be expected, all intending to be present are urged to get their tickets from the officers of the society as soon as possible.

PROF. RUSSELL'S BOOK

Written as Text Book On The Principles of Hydraulics

Prof. Russell's new book on hydraulics is written primarily as a text-book for students. The author believes that such a book should differ materially from a treatise and from a reference book designed for the practical engineer. The need for such a book, dealing primarily with the principles of the subject, has been long felt at the Institute and at other schools.

This book is based on Prof. Russell's earlier "Notes on Hydraulics," which have been in use for the last two years at the Institute. It contains more than twice the matter in the original book and has numerous problems at the end of each chapter. There is also a list of references to standard literature, so that students or engineers can further pursue the study of hydraulics.

The book is an octavo volume of 200 pages published by Henry Holt & Co., New York, and it is substantially bound in dark green buckram.

While written essentially for students, it should prove a value to engineers because of the compact arrangement and the references it contains.

A commission is coming to this country from the Chinese government, with purpose to purchase battleships and war supplies. The cost of rehabilitating her army and navy will approximate $200,000,000.

SHOW MANAGEMENT READY FOR HARD WORK

Dudley Clapp as General Manager Controls Subordinate Departments

"The best man for the place," the watchword of the Tech Show, has been fully lived up to in the appointment of Dudley Clapp 1910, to the position of general manager of Tech Show 1910. Ever since he entered the Institute Clapp has been connected with the Show, as assistant advertising manager, advertising manager, and as a writer of the largest number of lyrics composed by any one man in the Institute.

Among the best of his lyrics are: "One Eternal It," "The Conspirators," "Not the kind that Mother used to make," and "Every Little Shower is a Storm to You."

When Clapp took hold of the publicity department last year there was a decided lack of system. By dint of head work and careful thought he did a great deal toward broadening and systematizing this department. Now as general manager he has attained the highest honor awarded by the Show and has moreover, proved that he is thoroughly capable of filling the place of trust competently.

H. C. Davis, Jr. 1911, is at the head of the publicity department of this year's Show and will see that it is kept before the public. Davis was also a member of last year's management in the capacity of asst. advertising manager.

1913 AT SOMERVILLE

Freshman Team Handicapped By Injuries To Men

Today at 3 o'clock the freshmen play Somerville High at Somerville. The coach could not give the line-up last night, and was afraid that a crippled team will enter the field. Owing to an injury to his hand, R. M. Freeman will not be able to play, and several other good men have been laid up by injuries.

The Somerville High team is fully as heavy as the freshmen team, and has shown up well, both in practice and in the games they have played.

FIRST DINNER OF SOPHOMORE CLASS

1912 Will Banquet at Union Followed By Union Entertainment

Members of the sophomore class will be given another opportunity to display their class spirit upon the occasion of the annual dinner to be given October 22nd, at the Union. One of the striking features of the 1912 aggregation has been the unprecedented enthusiasm taken by the members in class affairs, and this event is expected to prove no exception to the rule, plans being laid for the largest sophomore dinner in the history of the State.

Circumstances seem to have combined to make the date (Oct. 22nd) a most propitious one. The committee has been particularly fortunate in obtaining some of the most popular and distinguished professors at the Institute to attend the banquet and lend cheer to the occasion. Among those present will be Dean Burton, Dr. Noyes, Secretary Merrill, Bursar Rand, Prof. Sedgwick, Major Wheeler and Mr. Blachstein. Furthermore, Oct. 22 marks the first of a series of entertainments to be given every Friday evening at the Union, and the members of the class will be given an opportunity to listen to an address by President Maclaurin in the reception rooms of the Union, at the close of the dinner.

Perhaps the star feature of the event will be the announcement of the 1912 class officers for the coming year. Elections this year will be exceedingly close and no small amount of interest in the outcome has been manifested by the student body. The results of the elections will first be made public at the class dinner, and this fact alone, is sufficient to insure a large attendance.

Tickets are being distributed by at least a dozen members of the class who report good sales at this early date, which lead the committee to believe that they have the co-operation of the class in making the dinner the finest affair of the season. The committee in charge is L. L. Downing, L. M. Huggins and E. H. Schell. H. D. Kemp will be temporary toastmaster.

CHESS MEETING

Ten men attended the Chess Club meeting held last Friday. The following officers were elected for the coming term: President, S. M. Schmidt 1911 (re-elected); vice-president, G. L. Mylchreest 1910; secretary-treasurer, S. C. Neff 1912; executive committee, S. E. Bates 1911, L. Rosenstein 1910, A. L. Myers 1911.

Plans will soon be made for holding matches, both among the members and with other schools.
