Field Day will surely be a great day this year, not shown in athletic events, nor in the musing of dance Wagons, for, although there will certainly make quite a stir and draw a big crowd, other things will happen. About noon Friday, November 19th, all lines of traffic will lead to the Tech Union, because—Miss Elsie Janis is coming to dine—accepting this invitation as extended to her by the class of 1912. Although, not the last of November, 1912, there will be just ten members of the company with Miss Janis, and President Rogers will be there, with this good-natured, ever "Fair Child" should be safe.

The Union will be gaily decorated in red and grey, and a round table will be spread at the center of the dining room, when on each side of this table places will be reserved for distinguished guests, on the left the leading men of the Institute, and at the right, the managers, editors and board members of The Tech Daily, for whom the banquet is arranged.

The dinner will start at 12 o'clock and the Tech orchestra will render an interesting set of selections. The menu is as follows:

Menu
- Julienne Soup
- Fried Fish, Hamburger, Water Sauce
- Parmesan Potatoes
- Roast Chicken, Giblet Sauce
- Mashed Potatoes - Green Peas
- Vanilla Ice Cream
- Cake
- Coffee

Tickets will be thirty cents, and are on sale by the Union committee, and also at book ticket counter in the Union dining room. Tables may be reserved until Saturday at 5 o'clock. Tickets may be secured at the check-in stewards.

After the dinner, Miss Janis and her friends are going to start traffic going again, this time, however, it will be a private affair, but the members of the corous will go to the Field House for a few songs.

A request was made to have the Union as the headquarters for underwrite, instead of Rogers.

CROSS-COUNTRY SURVEY

Credit for the surveying of the new six mile Technology Cross-country course has been given to W. E. Konimer, 1910, L. G. Fitzherbert, 1911, and H. G. Watkins, 1912. The laying out of the course required a great amount of labor on the part of the enthusiastic work, augmented to a large sum.

NEW Y. M. C. A. BUILDING

When the committee on the new Y. M. C. A. Building, Mr. W. F. Stearns last night, and the result of the two weeks campaign was read, a great shout went up, for it clearly showed away, the big bell in the steeple of the Old South Church to ring out with sympathetic vibration.

Here is the last part of it. The Tech Y. M. C. A. contributed $381.00.

Guess that small hand did go around:

THE “FAIR CO-ED” AT THE UNION AND FIELD DINNER

Miss Elsie Janis And Her Mother

Field Day will surely be a great day this year, not shown in athletic events, nor in the musing of dance Wagons, for, although there will certainly make quite a stir and draw a big crowd, other things will happen. About noon Friday, November 19th, all lines of traffic will lead to the Tech Union, because—Miss Elsie Janis is coming to dine—accepting this invitation as extended to her by the class of 1912. Although, not the last of November, 1912, there will be just ten members of the company with Miss Janis, and President Rogers will be there, with this good-natured, ever "Fair Child" should be safe.

The Union will be gaily decorated in red and grey, and a round table will be spread at the center of the dining room, when on each side of this table places will be reserved for distinguished guests, on the left the leading men of the Institute, and at the right, the managers, editors and board members of The Tech Daily, for whom the banquet is arranged.

The dinner will start at 12 o'clock and the Tech orchestra will render an interesting set of selections. The menu is as follows:

Menu
- Julienne Soup
- Fried Fish, Hamburger, Water Sauce
- Parmesan Potatoes
- Roast Chicken, Giblet Sauce
- Mashed Potatoes - Green Peas
- Vanilla Ice Cream
- Cake
- Coffee

Tickets will be thirty cents, and are on sale by the Union committee, and also at book ticket counter in the Union dining room. Tables may be reserved until Saturday at 5 o'clock. Tickets may be secured at the check-in stewards.

After the dinner, Miss Janis and her friends are going to start traffic going again, this time, however, it will be a private affair, but the members of the corous will go to the Field House for a few songs.

A request was made to have the Union as the headquarters for underwrite, instead of Rogers.

CROSS-COUNTRY SURVEY

Credit for the surveying of the new six mile Technology Cross-country course has been given to W. E. Konimer, 1910, L. G. Fitzherbert, 1911, and H. G. Watkins, 1912. The laying out of the course required a great amount of labor on the part of the enthusiastic work, augmented to a large sum.

NEW Y. M. C. A. BUILDING

When the committee on the new Y. M. C. A. Building, Mr. W. F. Stearns last night, and the result of the two weeks campaign was read, a great shout went up, for it clearly showed away, the big bell in the steeple of the Old South Church to ring out with sympathetic vibration.

Here is the last part of it. The Tech Y. M. C. A. contributed $381.00.

Guess that small hand did go around: