If men coming into lectures late would do so quietly, and were able to decide whether they should enter or stay out, without opening the lecture room door, more than half a dozen times, it seems probable that fewer lecturers would have the doors of their lecture rooms locked at five minutes after the hour.

WIRELESS STATION

Work On Equipment In Progress Location In Room A Union

On November 22, a petition was sent to the Executive Committee of the Institute for "permission to erect a wireless station at the Institute according to plans, proposed by the Station Committee and submitted to Professor Cross and Professor Spofford and by them approved. A report on the action of the committee was received by Pres. E. B. Moore yesterday from President MacLaurin and permission was granted to continue with the receiving station on the plans laid down. However, it was deemed advisable to defer the installation of the powerful sending station until the matter of possible interference with government and commercial stations could be carefully worked out and with it be established for a certainty that no trouble would result from such a plant.

One of the main objects of the Wireless Society is to do away with unnecessary interference and so this question is to be carefully worked out before the station is equipped with a powerful transformer for sending.

The wireless station is to be located in the west corner of Room A in the Union. This room is also used at certain times during the day for other activities; but as most of the wireless tests are carried on in the evening and well into the night no conflict is expected. The station is to be open to all wireless society members whose dues are paid. The Station Committee are rushing things as fast as possible and all men who can give a little time on the station should leave their name for E. W. Guilford, care of Cage, stating time that can be given.

THE "DOPESTER"

Did you read the line up of Harvard's Association Football team. Quite an all International team, wasn't it.

Michigan's great coach, Fielding H. Yost has signed a contract to remain at Ann Harbor for two more years.

Next Tuesday afternoon the 1912 class basketball team meets Boston University at B. U. All 1912 men out, start the team well with some good support.

The last call of local football, Everett High vs Somerville High. This game will certainly be good for any of the football "fans" but get your tickets early.

Another word, for the football "fans." Have you heard the cry, "Back to old style football. Most of the old time players believe thoroughly in the former less open football and they are trying hard to reinstate it in the good graces of the present coaches.

INTERCOLLEGIATE NEWS

At the St. Andrews day celebration of the Scot's Charitable Society, Pres. MacLaurin of Technology was introduced as "a distinguished Scotchman of our own times, and one of the great educators of the land, head of an institution of unsurpassed excellence, who honors Scotland and America." Pres. MacLaurin spoke on Scotch characteristics.

Upon his return from the inauguration of President Shanklin of Wesleyan, President Faunce of Brown said: "In all the inaugurations this fall three notes have been sounded. The first is the close fellowship of Eastern universities. They were not made to order or created by a state legislature, nor founded on any one philosophical system, but grew up gradually. The second note in the inaugural exercises has been that of unquenchable faith in the American college. The faith of the American people in the American college is deeper today than ever before. The third note that has been sounded is the necessity for making the college and maintaining the college, for serious intellectual toil. Life is too short for four years of idling, of dawdling, of dreaming. The world outside the college is doing harder work than ever before. If the college is to hold its place in public esteem it must keep up its standards of work. It behooves us, amid the large freedom of the modern college, which I believe in, which I want to preserve, it behooves us to remember that it is a serious world, where a man who does not put his utmost effort into his work soon falls behind."

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Boylston Chemical Club of Harvard it was voted that the kind invitation of the Technology Chemical Club be accepted and that an invitation be issued to the members of Tech Chemical Club to attend any of the meetings of the Boylston Club that they may care to.

On next Thursday evening December 2d, Mr. G. W. Hains will speak at the Harvard Union on "The Radium Family" and Mr. C. M. Brewster on "Experiences at Heidelberg." All Tech men who intend to go to this meeting should make their intentions known to the Secretary of the Chemical Club at once.

The football series between the West and the East this year stands three wins for the West and one tie.
