Third Christian Association Dinner

J. Frank Chase To Speak Tomorrow On The White Slave Traffic

Third in the series of December feasts, the Dining Hall Management will serve a German dinner to the Technology Christians. A white tie and evening gown, at six o'clock. Served as they are in the card room of the hotel, the dishes are proving to be not alone palatable, but novel and entertaining.

The arrangement of tables and the room itself lends an atmosphere to the occasion. A room of 45 by 95, the walls are decorated in a formal manner, with water colors of the famous American city. The long tables are finished in a most artistic manner, with a mahogany top, a mahogany base, and a mahogany lining. The chairs are of the same material, with a mahogany seat, a mahogany back, and a mahogany arm rests.

The dinner is served at six o'clock, and is expected to be over by eight o'clock. The menu is as follows:

Salad

Soup

Entrée

Dessert

Coffee

The report of the retiring treasurer, F. R. Hart, of the Institute, has just been presented, is of particular interest because it is the first report of this kind made out according to the standard schedule recommended by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching for universities, colleges and technological schools throughout the country.

The report shows that the income for the current fiscal year ending September 15, 1909, was $540,924.84, while the expense was $373,805.93, making a deficit of $167,118.91. This deficit, which was practically the same as that of last year, takes into consideration the very small deficits of past years. This fact brings out prominently the pressing need of an endowment fund, a fast brought out prominently in Mr. Frank Kanaly's report, for this splendid institution which has for the past ten or fifteen years drawn largely from the community which should be its chief supporter.

One of the interesting features of the report is the fact that the alumni gave over $41,000 to the Institute during the year. This is the fourth year in which the alumni will definitely do an endowment fund. And this year, the amount was $16,000. This moneys is given to the general fund, and the deficit for the current fiscal year would have been over $300,000.

The Institute received no other gifts during the year.
