In Fast Game Harvard Scores 4 to 1--O'Brien Shot Only

Tech Goal

The Technology hockey team received its first defeat yesterday afternoon at the hands of the Harvard aggregation.

The final score was four to one. At one time it looked as if the game would have to be cancelled on account of the snow, but the sky cleared up in a short time.

The Technology team played a fairly consistent game; but passed well, but they were not as fast on their feet as the Harvard men. The game was singularly free from any rough playing and at times was a very pretty display of the boys' skill.

The scoring of the game was as follows: The first half was played without a score. In the first half there were several chances, but neither team was able to capitalize them. In the second half, after a high-scoring first half, Harvard came on with a vengeance.

The Harvard forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored four of the five goals. The Technology forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored two of the five goals. The Technology forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored two of the five goals.

The Harvard forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored four of the five goals. The Technology forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored two of the five goals. The Technology forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored two of the five goals.

The Harvard forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored four of the five goals. The Technology forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored two of the five goals. The Technology forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored two of the five goals.

The Harvard forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored four of the five goals. The Technology forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored two of the five goals. The Technology forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored two of the five goals.

The Harvard forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored four of the five goals. The Technology forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored two of the five goals. The Technology forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored two of the five goals.

The Harvard forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored four of the five goals. The Technology forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored two of the five goals. The Technology forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored two of the five goals.

The Harvard forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored four of the five goals. The Technology forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored two of the five goals. The Technology forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored two of the five goals.

The Harvard forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored four of the five goals. The Technology forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored two of the five goals. The Technology forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored two of the five goals.

The Harvard forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored four of the five goals. The Technology forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored two of the five goals. The Technology forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored two of the five goals.

The Harvard forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored four of the five goals. The Technology forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored two of the five goals. The Technology forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored two of the five goals.

The Harvard forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored four of the five goals. The Technology forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored two of the five goals. The Technology forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored two of the five goals.

The Harvard forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored four of the five goals. The Technology forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored two of the five goals. The Technology forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored two of the five goals.

The Harvard forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored four of the five goals. The Technology forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored two of the five goals. The Technology forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored two of the five goals.

The Harvard forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored four of the five goals. The Technology forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored two of the five goals. The Technology forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored two of the five goals.

The Harvard forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored four of the five goals. The Technology forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored two of the five goals. The Technology forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored two of the five goals.

The Harvard forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored four of the five goals. The Technology forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored two of the five goals. The Technology forwards were the most effective in getting the goal, and they scored two of the five goals.

Tuts easily defeated M. I. T. in a Basket-Ball--Second Team Wins

In a game full of excitement and tough play, Harvard defeated Technology in a game full of excitement and tough play.