any former year." The work of all the campus organizations was eulogized, and especially the excellent work of the Executive Committee is highly praised.

Prof. Burton calls attention to the work of the campus organizations. "The life has been much improved, and that good is doing its work very much more productively among undergraduates; but he cautions that the men have not at all assumed the responsibilities of the upper classmen, which has for its basis excellence in academic standing.

Report of Medical Examiner.

Dr. White strongly advises the men to take a few weeks' rest at the end of their course. "Each year finds a certain number of men who are necessarily put out of order early in the fall term from lack of rest."

The question of an Institute infirmary is very thoroughly discussed, and Dr. White points out the urgent need for more space has been announced as one of the great benefits of the Club.

The Junior Prom. Committee has suc- cessfully entertained a capacity audience.

The committee wish to emphasize the fact that the Prom, as an Institute af- fair, and not an affair for the Junior class alone. The actual number sixty or seventy or so have shown an almost universal intention of going to the Prom, indicating a step that to effect may be due to an misunderstanding of the above. Members of the Junior class are just as welcome as upperclassmen. Suggestions from the students as to music to be played at the Prom, are very much desired by the committee, but in spite of the many notices to this effect none have been received.
