"Composition" now becomes the key note of their efforts. They are made to understand that a "work of archi tecture" is not simply a collection of examples taken ser\vely, but a study and a research, or an examination of the app\ropriate choice of the elements at their command, and to arrange them in an harmonious manner, that they may become the members of the same family, and that they may convey a definite meaning. It is necessary to make a judicious and profound study and a penetration of the spirit it is necessary to make a judicious and profound study and a penetration of the spirit of the periods which they examine exhaustively the aissance, the 17th and 18th centuries of the periods which they examine exhaustively the aissance, the 17th and 18th centuries.

Problems of three and five weeks' duration alternate with short assignments called "esquisse-esquisse" made in two ways to test the depth of the student's development and intelligent approach of an architectural work. With this study in view the problem is presented with freedom of interpretation and a choice of inspiration which the character of the work does not consist in the juxtaposition of isolated examples, but in a complete and artistic manner.

The student is given two afternoons each week for the study of the different services, taking into account surroundings, climate, monument materials, and giving to the interior of the building, as well as to its facade, a decorative treatment at once harmonious and appropriate. The customs and habits of different peoples are considered, together with the aspirations of the people who wish to use their initiative.
