HOG-NIGHT

Tune—I Wonder Who’s Kissing Her Now.

Chorus—

I wonder who’s buying The Tech, That poor little newspaper weed; I wonder who’s paying me yen

Down, With arown—like a clown,

He surely can’t want any news; He may enjoy prejudiced views;

Where he can’t find an ale.

If he will that he had,

I wonder who’s buying The Tech, Tune—Cuddle Up a Little Closer.

Chorus—

Can’t you be a little closer, Andy Mat, When we buy a book you give so much change back; In your little shop so handy, Service that is fine and dandy, Charge a little more dough, Andy—Andy.

Tune—Rings on My Fingers.

Verse—

One day last fall, the freshmen all

Decided they’d have fun;

And gold spoons in their soup;

Sure—they had pearls in their oys-

For a bat was their intent.

Not caring what they spent,

And gold braid on it,

They drank their booze like high-

And pores and which closes up small punctures without allow-

The best that they could get;

They’re the goods, and all the

Were wet—You Bet! Tune—Old Gray Bonnet.

Verse—
