

TECH MEN GO TO HARVARD

Prof. Pearson Entertains Debating Society

Last night Prof. Pearson escorted all but one of the members of his debating class to the realms of Harvard to attend there the debate between Harvard and Princeton. This debate was one of the three in the new scheme of triangular debates between Harvard, Yale and Princeton. Each school has two teams in the field presenting the opposite sides of the same question to the opposing schools at one and the same time.

The decision went to the Harvard team. After the debate the Tech debating class adjourned to The Union, where Prof. Pearson arranged for a Welsh rarebit supper, which was disposed of, while the manner in which the debate had been carried off was discussed.

COLLEGE NEWS

The Johns Hopkins University is to have an independent baseball team. The athletic association has refused to recognize or give any aid to the national sport.

The Intercollegiate Wrestling Association will hold its annual meet at Philadelphia Saturday. Princeton appears to have the best chance to win the title, as Cornell, which was looked upon to win a few weeks ago, lost to the Tigers last Saturday.

Eddie K. Merrihew, the Harvard quarter-miler, in his relay, as a member of the Boston Athletic Association team against Harry Gissing, New York's peerless runner, was credited by Charles Dieges with running the last quarter in an even 50 seconds.

One of the runners on the Penn freshman team which will compete in the freshman relay race at the Penn relay carnival will be Mercer, the former George schoolboy, who is known by the track followers chiefly because of his ability to vault over 12 feet and clear close to 23 feet in the running broad jump. He has shown as good as 51 seconds for the quarter, and that is why Murphy is picking him to represent Penn's opening class.

One-twentieth of the students at the University of Pennsylvania are from foreign countries.
