CYTES CHAMPIONS

The pitchers, Pomeroy for the Cocci, and Horner for the Cytes did good work both ably assisted by the umpire. O'Hearn excelled behind the bat for the Sanitary bunch, while Ed. Pring, catching for the Course VII. men, seemed at times to show symptoms of being stamped by the ball.

The interesting repartee kept up between O'Hearn and Birlings, while the pitcher was winding up; not to speak of the advice of the umpire to the Cocci to "hit at the ball before it landed in the catcher's mitt," and the valiant endeavor of Schneider to negotiate three bases on a passed ball, kept the crowd on edge.

To mention other occurrences of individual excellence would be to chronicle the feats of every man on each team, so their names only will be given.

W. R. BYLUND ELECTED

W. R. Bylund was elected captain of the 1913 cross-country team at a meeting of the candidates held yesterday. Bylund did good work for his class this winter indoors. In the freshman class meet he won the high jump, and in the freshman-sophomore meet he took second place in that event. Besides this, Bylund is a promising half-miler and cross-country man.
