

TECH VS. TECHNIQUE

Did The Tech pay for that "cask of nectar" that rested on third base during the Tech-Technique 1911 baseball game last Friday? No. The Tech did not.

Technique 1911 paid again this year. Why did Technique 1911 pay for the "Adams Pure Ale?" Because they lost the annual game with The Tech by the score of 8 to 5. They thought that they would surely win, but over-confidence never won yet.

The game was "full of features,"—the pitching of Brooks, the Tech cartoonist, the acrobatic fielding of "Don" Frazier, "Tommy's" work on the slab for Technique, the umpiring of Bursar Rand, and so forth.

In concluding, it may be repeated that the score was—The Tech 8—Technique 1911, 5.

The board of army engineers appointed by the war department to consider changes in bridges over the Charles river at North station will meet in this city today. The object will be to try to decide on the changes which must be completed by 1914. On the board are Gen. W. Lockwood, Lieut.-Col. Edward Burr of Boston and Lieut.-Col. Harry Taylor of New London. President Tuttle of the Boston & Maine and President Mellen of the New Haven are expected to attend.

Annapolis, Md., April 17—Harvard will row the race with the navy on Saturday, the date originally understood by the Academy authorities as fixed for the contest, providing Superintendent Bowyer refuses to recede from his stand against the Thursday race. The visitors take the stand that to put the race off until Saturday will give no second chance to row if bad weather should prevent its being held then.
