COURSE ISSUES
 The Tech is considering having sets of the Course issues bound. The price will of course depend on the number. If those who would desire such a volume would signify such desire by leaving a note to that effect in one of The Tech boxes, matters would be greatly facilitated.
 It is understood that this note would be no wise bind the writer provided the price was considered too high.
 The pages have been numbered consecutively in each issue so that they will go together very well in bound form; and so arranged, they would be a source of information on the various courses from a personal standpoint that is no where else to be found.
