Harvard and Yale clash next Saturday at Cambridge, the occasion being the annual dual meet. It is generally expected that the result will be very close.

At New Haven Harvard is said to be the favorite, the score should be about 50 to 48. But this does not mean that the Blue will not fight in the same old bulldog manner.

The annual "Dead Horse Hill Climb" at Worcester will be held this year on June 4. This is one of the most important automobile competitions in this part of the country.

Two or three pleasant days lately have given excellent opportunity for observing Halley's comet, which has now passed its nearest point to the sun and is rushing away on the beginning of a new seventy-five year round-trip. It has yet however to pass its nearest point to the earth. This passage will be made on May 18, and after that date it will be visible in the evening shortly after sundown, rather than in the early morning hours, as is the case now.

Professor Frost of the Yerkes Observatory turned the spectroscope on the comet the other day, and in addition to detecting sodium in its makeup there were distinct traces of hydrocarbon, as well as cyanogen. Professor Frost finds no trace of cyanogen in the tail. The spectrum of both the comet and the tail is continuous.

St. John's, N. F., May 8—The maiden voyage of the steamer Normandy, bound from London to Toronto, ended suddenly early yesterday when, in a dense fog, the Normandy crashed into Great Island, near Bay Bulls, about 20 miles from here, and an hour later worked off the shoal and sank in 25 fathoms of water. She had aboard 26 men, commanded by Captain Havthorne, the captain's wife, three children, and two maids, all of whom made shore safely in the ship's lifeboats.

The invention of a successful pocket wireless telegraph apparatus by Prof. Cerebotani of Paris, France, was announced in the press of the world several months ago, but until recently little was known of the details of the instrument. It is described as having a wooden face on which are printed the letters of the alphabet, a pointer on the dial indicating the letters which are sent from the instrument in the hands of some other operator. This simple arrangement it seems, makes it available for the unscientific man as well as the skilled operator.
