Killion elected president with Herlihy vice-President and Walsh Secretary

A new era in student government at the Institute was the result of yesterday's meeting of the Institute Committee, for at this meeting a report from the advisory board of Tech Show 1910 was read by President Goodwin, with a statement, which agrees with the detailed report of the advisory board.

The advisory board of the show also submitted to the Institute Committee approval for appointments of the management for next year. These appointments were confirmed as follows: general manager, Irving White Wilson 1912; advertising manager, Louis Wohling 1912; business manager, Erwin Haskell Schell 1912.

As an outcome of the recent activities on the part of the show, and the successful campaign for distribution, it is the consensus of the show advisory board that the show for 1910, with the efficient work of the management, has been a financial success.

In his report, Dr. Tuttle of the Alumni Council, had a few words to say about the club, and the importance of the club and its work for the Catholic students at the Institute.

The next speaker was Mr. C. J. Marsman, manager of the 1912 tug-of-war team. A member of the 1912 tug-of-war team, a member of the Tech Alumni Council, and the president of the Catholic Student Society, Mr. Marsman gave a brief summary of his year's work, and the most important points of his address were: (1) That the Institute Committee has made the following comments and recommendations:

1. That the Institute Committee, during the coming year, will be expected to make a reasonable amount of money.
2. That the Institute Committee, during the coming year, will be expected to make a reasonable amount of money.

The next speaker was Mr. C. J. Marsman, manager of the 1912 tug-of-war team. A member of the 1912 tug-of-war team, a member of the Tech Alumni Council, and the president of the Catholic Student Society, Mr. Marsman gave a brief summary of his year's work, and the most important points of his address were: (1) That the Institute Committee has made the following comments and recommendations:

1. That the Institute Committee, during the coming year, will be expected to make a reasonable amount of money.
2. That the Institute Committee, during the coming year, will be expected to make a reasonable amount of money.

The next speaker was Mr. C. J. Marsman, manager of the 1912 tug-of-war team. A member of the 1912 tug-of-war team, a member of the Tech Alumni Council, and the president of the Catholic Student Society, Mr. Marsman gave a brief summary of his year's work, and the most important points of his address were: (1) That the Institute Committee has made the following comments and recommendations:

1. That the Institute Committee, during the coming year, will be expected to make a reasonable amount of money.
2. That the Institute Committee, during the coming year, will be expected to make a reasonable amount of money.

The next speaker was Mr. C. J. Marsman, manager of the 1912 tug-of-war team. A member of the 1912 tug-of-war team, a member of the Tech Alumni Council, and the president of the Catholic Student Society, Mr. Marsman gave a brief summary of his year's work, and the most important points of his address were: (1) That the Institute Committee has made the following comments and recommendations:

1. That the Institute Committee, during the coming year, will be expected to make a reasonable amount of money.
2. That the Institute Committee, during the coming year, will be expected to make a reasonable amount of money.

The next speaker was Mr. C. J. Marsman, manager of the 1912 tug-of-war team. A member of the 1912 tug-of-war team, a member of the Tech Alumni Council, and the president of the Catholic Student Society, Mr. Marsman gave a brief summary of his year's work, and the most important points of his address were: (1) That the Institute Committee has made the following comments and recommendations:

1. That the Institute Committee, during the coming year, will be expected to make a reasonable amount of money.
2. That the Institute Committee, during the coming year, will be expected to make a reasonable amount of money.

The next speaker was Mr. C. J. Marsman, manager of the 1912 tug-of-war team. A member of the 1912 tug-of-war team, a member of the Tech Alumni Council, and the president of the Catholic Student Society, Mr. Marsman gave a brief summary of his year's work, and the most important points of his address were: (1) That the Institute Committee has made the following comments and recommendations:

1. That the Institute Committee, during the coming year, will be expected to make a reasonable amount of money.
2. That the Institute Committee, during the coming year, will be expected to make a reasonable amount of money.

The next speaker was Mr. C. J. Marsman, manager of the 1912 tug-of-war team. A member of the 1912 tug-of-war team, a member of the Tech Alumni Council, and the president of the Catholic Student Society, Mr. Marsman gave a brief summary of his year's work, and the most important points of his address were: (1) That the Institute Committee has made the following comments and recommendations:

1. That the Institute Committee, during the coming year, will be expected to make a reasonable amount of money.
2. That the Institute Committee, during the coming year, will be expected to make a reasonable amount of money.

The next speaker was Mr. C. J. Marsman, manager of the 1912 tug-of-war team. A member of the 1912 tug-of-war team, a member of the Tech Alumni Council, and the president of the Catholic Student Society, Mr. Marsman gave a brief summary of his year's work, and the most important points of his address were: (1) That the Institute Committee has made the following comments and recommendations:

1. That the Institute Committee, during the coming year, will be expected to make a reasonable amount of money.
2. That the Institute Committee, during the coming year, will be expected to make a reasonable amount of money.