NEW ENGLAND INTERCOLLEGIATE TRACK MEET AT TECH FIELD TODAY

Will Probably Be The Closest For Years—Amherst, Bowdoin, Dartmouth And Tech Are Picked To Be Among Leaders.

Over 100 athletes, representing the pick of 14 New England colleges are to take part in the New England intercollegiate track meet to be held at Tech Field, Brookline, for the championship of the annual New England meet tomorrow and Thursday.

Today at 3:00 the preliminaries will begin, and every event in every track and field event will begin Saturday afternoon at 2:30 will come the finals in all the events. Events have been selected from 14 colleges—Amherst, Bowdoin, Brown, Colby, Dartmouth, Holy Cross, University of Maine, Technology, Trinity, Tufts, University of Vermont, Wesleyan, Williams, and Williams College.

With "Jimmie" Shurman, Dartmouth's star track man, out of the picture, the chances for the Harvard victory are considerably lessened. At the first prelims again this year are out with, those of Tech, Amherst and Bowdoin.

Amherst is in good condition he should win at least three points for the Green and White. Williams was pushed close by Tech, the latter taking second place. Bowdoin, Wesleyan, Tufts and Vermont followed in the order named.

In the century dash, Robson of Wesleyan should win the field, while Roberts of Amherst has shown up in great shape this spring. The 220-yard dash will be run in 9.3-seconds. He will probably finish in one of the top three places. Nathan of Williams is a possibility for a place in the 220-yard event.

The quarter-mile should go to Salisbury of Amherst, Franklin of Dartmouth. Massachusetts will probably win the leadoff of the mile. Snart of Tufts, Lifebridge of Maine, Wood of Wesleyan and Prentice of Dartmouth have all shown marked improvement this year and they may push the favorites to the limit.

In the half-mile "Pete" White of Tech should capture first place. Baxer of Dartmouth is a good second and if he is in good condition he may take the fast from the Tech conditioner. For the mile, Prentice will probably run close to the leaders. Cook and Lester of Williams and Byrne of Tech will struggle to make the team.

Two Tech track men, Mills in the mile and Crowe in the two-mile, will be up with the leaders. Snart of Tufts, Lifebridge of Maine, Wood of Wesleyan and Prentice of Dartmouth have all shown marked improvement this year and they may push the favorites to the limit.
