BIOLOGICAL SOCIETY.

The Biological Society held its first meeting of the year on Monday, October 10, and much important business was transacted. The new constitution as drafted by G. T. Palmer and H. A.
Jeffries was adopted. The resignation of V. Schneider as president was received and accepted. Howard P.
Ireland, Oliver D. Powell and Samuel R. Schmidt were elected president, seccretary, treasurer and assistant seccretary-treasurer respectively.

Mr. Gunn, the latest addition to the Biological Department, was unanimously elected an honorary member of the society.

This society, the youngest of the professional societies at the Institute, has become famous for its very entertaining dinners and meetings. This year will prove no exception and an excellent program for the month is being arranged.

The Biological Society was founded for the purpose of promoting social intercourse among students of biological subjects; of providing a social meeting ground for instructors or biology and their students, and of furthering the knowledge of biological subjects by discussion, and especially of addresses of invited guests.

The new constitution provides that all registered students in Courses VII (Biology), XI (Sanitary Engineering), and V (Chemistry), are eligible to regular membership in the society.

Regular dues of fifty cents a term are required for regular membership in the society.

The leaders of the government point to a fundamental revision of the present existing form of government.

Two weeks ago a conference between the present members of the House of Lords, as well as six-year Senators elected from the colonies on an approximate population basis. In general, this scheme is immensely popular throughout the empire, although the large land owners are violently opposed to it. They believe that the new Senate would be intensely radical in its views, and that property would be in great danger of redistribution. If these plans are decided on they will be submitted to the peo-l of the country for a vote. It is believed that the conference will finish its work at the end of this month.

The Psychological Society held its first meeting of the year on Monday, October 10, and much important business was transacted. The new constitution as drafted by G. T. Palmer and H. A. Jeffries was adopted. The resignation of V. Schneider as president was received and accepted. Howard P. Ireland, Oliver D. Powell and Samuel R. Schmidt were elected president, secretary, treasurer and assistant secretary-treasurer respectively.

Mr. Gunn, the latest addition to the
Biological Department, was unanimously elected an honorary member of
the society.

This society, the youngest of the professional societies at the Institute, has
become famous for its very entertaining dinners and meetings. This
year will prove no exception and an
excellent program for the month is
being arranged.

The Biological Society was founded
for the purpose of promoting social
intercourse among students of biologi-
cal subjects; of providing a social
meeting ground for instructors or
biology and their students, and of fur-
thering the knowledge of biological
subjects by discussion, and especially
of addresses of invited guests.

The new constitution provides that
all registered students in Courses VII
(Biology), XI (Sanitary Engineering),
and V (Chemistry), are eligible to
regular membership in the society.

Regular dues of fifty cents a term
are required for regular membership in the society.

The leaders of the government
point to a fundamental revision of the
present existing form of government.

Two weeks ago a conference between
the present members of the House of Lords, as well as six-year Senators
elected from the colonies on an ap-
proximate population basis. In general, this scheme is immensely popular throughout the empire, although
the large land owners are violently
opposed to it. They believe that the
new Senate would be intensely radi-
cal in its views, and that property
would be in great danger of redistri-
bution. If these plans are decided
on they will be submitted to the peo-
l of the country for a vote. It is
believed that the conference will
finish its work at the end of this
month.