TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1910.

It is with sincere regret that every Institute man learns of the resignation of Major Frank H. Briggs from the chairmanship of the Athletic Advisory Council. In 1897, when it was found necessary to form such an organization to regulate the general athletic interests of Tech students, to exercise supervision and, if necessary, to assume control of all funds connected with athletics, Major Briggs was chosen chairman of the Council. It was through his skillful leadership and unflinching work that the new and united organization filled the requirement so long needed, and has become the supreme factor in athletics at Technology. Through his leadership, the Advisory Council has so encouraged the athletic activities at the Institute that Tech now holds a most creditable position in intercollegiate athletics, and yet the main influence of the Council has been to develop the many as teammates rather than the few as individual stars. Through Major Briggs's leadership the Council has so expanded its jurisdiction over the finances of the athletic organizations that now the Institute teams are everywhere recognized and respected also in a financial way. From the very beginning Major Briggs has been the prime factor in this move- ment for the best organization of Institute athletics, and has given his time and energy to the perfection of its efficiency. We are all sorry to lose of the chief advances of the Major, but respect his reasons as stated elsewhere in today's Tech. The Council has by no means concluded its work for the betterment of Institute athletics, but continues on the Council in the all-important po- sition of treasurer.

Together with the Major, Dr. Rockwell has been very active in the work of the Council, and under his lead- ership the Council is sure to con- tinue its usefulness and improve the efficiency and value of Technology's athletics.

CONFERENCES.

Following out the same plan that was carried out last year, Dr. Mann will conduct a series of conferences for Tech men at the Trinity Church Parish House (Clare- don Street Entrance) on the follow- ing Wednesdays evenings, at 7:30 P.M. The meetings close at 8:15 sharp. Each topic is complete in itself so that it is in no sense a course of lec- tures, and every one is welcome to any or all.
