RUN OVER HANDICAP CROSS-COUNTRY COURSE

Second Practice Run Will Be Held Saturday Over Regular Eight-Mile Course.

CUPS NOW ON EXHIBITION.

Dues May Be Paid to Chase Captains De Witt or Assistant Chase Captain R. M. Ferry.

HELD LAST NIGHT

Saturday the second practice run over the handicap cross-country course will be held. The threatening weather last Saturday prevented a large squad on the first run, but if the conditions are better a good crowd should run over the course, since it is the last chance to learn the ground before the race on November 19th.

The three cups which are annually given for first, second and third places in this race are on exhibition above the Technique case in the main hall of the Union since Monday. Last year's cups were presented by several of the former members of the cross-country team, but this year they have been presented by the Hare and Hounds' Club.

This race is intended for men who have been interested in cross-country running, but have not yet developed the finisher caliber. Members of the team are heavily handicapped, so anyone who gets a place has done well. Those handicaps given are time handicaps, as every man covers the distance of approximately one and a half miles. Anyone one enter this race provided he has been a member of the Hare and Hounds' Club. Membership does vary, and may be paid to R. W. (De Witt) 1911, class captain, or R. M. Ferry 1912, assistant class captain.

VISITS OF NORSEMN TO AMERICA

Professor William Hovgaard to Address Cosmopolitan Club On Saturday.

Professor William Hovgaard will address the Cosmopolitan Club on Saturday. His subject will be "The Visits of the Norsemen to America." As follows:

"This," he stated, "is the greatest event in the history of the world. Besides its fine scientific training the Institute gives religious instruction to all who come here. The life which has occurred at Tech in the last century has been a very successful one. Professor Sedgwick told of the variety of entertaining subjects which he has been interested in during the last century. He gave many anecdotes and then gave the class some good advice. He stated that there were three things a man should gain at college—reverence, love and knowledge.

Dean Burton was the next speaker, and he talked about the success of social life which has occurred at Tech in the last century. He gave his opinion as to what the future will be. There were three things a man should gain at college—reverence, love and knowledge. The meeting ended with a burdensome yell for M.I.T."

TURKEY NEGOTIATES LOAN WITH GERMANY

Financial Crisis Brought On By Incompetent Officials.

TOTAL DEBT IS $500,000,000.

New Military Policy and Sweeping Reforms Will Be Inaugurated.

Germany has once again proved her of a world power. While the other European nations were bickering over the Turkish debt, the greatest financial event of the year. Germany stepped in and floated a thirty million dollar loan. In so doing she has re-established the credit which has been menacing the equilibrium of the constitutional policy at Constantinople. The problem in regard to finances which had arisen since the revolution of 1870, was indeed a grave one, owing to extravagance, corruption, and inefficiently managed taxations.

The sudden blow from the East in the form of the Turkish debt, has made press for the return of the Habsburgs. These qualities have been strengthened by the war, and the financial crisis has been accelerated by the statesmen policy of the German Government. The government has once again made a loan, this time of $300,000,000. MR. F. A. BURTON ADDRESSES ARCHITECTS

European Trip Described—Problem in Design Discussed.

At a well attended meeting of the Architectural Society last evening, Mr. F. A. Burton, an interesting address on his recent trip through European countries, was outlined his travels, starting from England and Italy, and the architectural styles and points of interest in France, Switzerland and England. It was illustrated by excellent lantern slides, and was enlivened by several very lucid and informative asides.

At the business meeting, which preceded the address, the subject of a motion to go in with all the other professional
