UNION DINING ROOM TO OFFER PRIZE
A Week's Board Will Be Given Free to the Man Writing Best Criticism INCREASED ATTENDANCE is Especially Desired at Breakfasts and Dinners Last Week.

In order that the food and service of the Union dining room might meet with the approval of the whole student body, it has been frequently asked that complaints about specific trouble be left at the attention box. The committee has now announced its intention not only of seeking for helpful suggestions, but of offering a prize for ideas about the improvement of the dining room. They want as many men as possible to write a notation of anything more than five hundred words on the food and service in the Union, and offer a week's board to the man who writes the best paper. These writings should be, of course, unprinted, and should suggest means of improvement in form and content. The committee is especially anxious to increase the attendance at the breakfasts and dinners. Therefore they wish to encourage suggestions that will induce men living near the Institute to take these meals at the Union. All suggestions may be entered. The judge will be Mr. Coburn and A. D. Fuller. It is hoped that the best suggestions may be used for the best paper. These writings should be, of course, unprinted, and should suggest means of improvement in form and content.
