at the Arena Saturday night to see a dozen or twenty Tech men scattered in an audience of fifteen hundred trying to cheer our team. A team that plays as well as ours did is worthy of better encouragement.

In about ten days we have a game with Harvard. Is the spectacle of Saturday night to be repeated? Is it really impossible to awaken a better spirit of loyalty which should not have more talking and makes the fellows dig down into their pockets to get out a "half" for a ticket?

It’s our teams which represent as in the college world, and how do we expect our team to play with spirit when there are a thousand voices yelling "Harvard" into their ears, and as an answer they get an M. I. T. cheer as thin as one of Mary Garden’s dresses.

Wake up, fellows! It’s nothing but indifference and that excuse of having too much work is no old and lame as grandmother’s death when the office boy wants to see the "Red Sox" play the "Athletics." On the 14th Tech is going to be on one side and Harvard on the other, and let it be known that Tech men will give back yell for yell and everything that comes from the boys across the Charles River.

TO THE CLASS OF 1914.

Track work begins this week and the class of 1914 simply a got up a fine indoor track team, for we have to get even with the "Sophs" and make good against other strong teams. There are positions for nine events which have to be filled, which include the 440, 880 and 1-mile runs, the 40-yard dash, the 220 and the hurdles, the high jump, the pole vault and the shot-put. Every man who can possibly do any of these things, although he need not be a star, surely come out and try. The team work and back them up. Coach Kanaly is interested in this, the major sport at the college, and he deserves the support of every loyal Tech man.

The hockey team has commenced his season with flying colors, showing an surprising development of team spirit. Several old Tech men will speak, and the affair promises to be most enjoyable and profitable. The management certainly is the right spirit in trying to get interest in this, the major sport at Tech, and everyone ought to turn out and back them up. Coach Kanaly is putting in a lot of hard work with the hope of turning out a championship team, and he deserves the support of every loyal Tech man.
