It seems strange that an honor so great as that of winning the Du Pont cup should have brought out no more than six contestants this fall. The winner may rightfully claim the title of the best all-round athlete at the Institute, but to truly represent the whole, the content should receive the active support of the track men as a whole. There are surely more than six men at the Institute who could make a creditable showing in competition for the trophy, and each of these men should have taken his trials for this Fall. The "Oh, what's the use?" spirit is altogether too strong.

We are certainly fortunate in being able to hear twice today such a man as Mr. Towson. Mr. Towson is General Secretary of the International Young Men's Christian Association, as well as its field of work the entire United States and the Dominion of Canada. Thus he is in a position to be thoroughly conversant with modern industrial systems throughout North America. His work has brought him intimately in touch with the immigrant question, especially as it has affected the United States must be accompanied by an understanding of the solution of a problem. He is a man heart and soul enthusiastically absorbed in the work of the young men's Christian Association, and has been an active supporter of the track men as a copy.
