UNION COMMITTEE MEETING YESTERDAY
Consideration of the Purchase of Part of Compton Club Furniture

At the meeting of the Union Committee yesterday it was announced that W. McL. Sage, chairman of the Executive Committee, had resigned, owing to the loss of his position in the firm which employed him. The Union Committee is considering buying the furniture of the Compton Club to aid to that now at the Union.

FOWNES GLOVES—The way they're made has the way they wear. Do not buy any kind at any price until you send for a pair of these tires. They were designed by several layers of thin specially prepared fabric on the make-OFT, ELSTIC and SPONGE. No other quality of rubber, no matter how well dressed, can reproduce and close up small punctures without allowing the air to escape. We have hundreds of letters from satisfied customers testifying that their tires have only been pumped once or twice in a whole season. They weigh a little more than the ordinary kind, but they last longer. We have a choice of "A" and puncture strips. The way they're made has the way they wear.
