A SUGGESTION

Some few days ago a slight agitation was noticeable in the immediate vicinity of Boston. From it a few obtained a little motority, others cash, and the majority of us a little amusement.
It seems quite an opportune time just now to say a word or two concerning yell. At the present time we haven’t a very varied collection and when we are “no against” another college our odds in the cheering line are not very great.

Once every year we get together and if it doesn’t rain so very hard we have something cheering. Would it not be a good plan for each class to have on that day a cheer of its own which it could keep repeating the four years to come. Many of these yells could be probably easily worked into a school cheer and in a few years we would have quite a collection.
The idea is however worthy a suggestion by our President.

TECH GRADUATE OFFERS $2,000,000 BOULEVARD

T. Coleman Du Pont 1883 Offers Long Highway to the State

Of Delaware

The proposition of General T. Coleman Du Pont 1883, president of the Du Pont powder company, to build a great modern highway the full length of the state of Delaware, has assumed a concrete form, following a lengthy interview, which the multimillionaire had with the Attorney-General.

General Du Pont said that he had decided to bear the whole expense of constructing the best road in the United States. It will be a boulevard with space for the installation of all public utilities. This will mean a highway probably 100 feet wide, and 100 miles long.

The proposed incorporation of a $25,000,000 company in Delaware to construct a national highway from New York to Washington D.C., has no connection with the Du Pont project. The governor will send a special message to the legislature to enable the state to accept Mr. Du Pont’s proposition.

TECH SECONDS WIN

Through a typographical error, the score of the basketball game between our second team and that of Tufts, last Tuesday, was printed wrong. Tech won by a score of 11 to 9.

IN THE LIMELIGHT

The Union dining-room is not doing as booming a business nowadays as it deserves to do.
At the Tufts basket ball game there was but one Tech spectator. It was a freshman.

Gee, but those freshmen are getting strong. One of them broke an iron drum at the Gym this other day.

Those men who are delaying the purchase of tickets to the Military Hop should remember that procrastination is the thief of time.

The Armory balcony seems to be very popular with the fairer sex during drill-time. It also seems to be enough to “turns the heads” of some of the freshmen (toward the balcony).
