The mystery surrounding the Chocolate Soldiers continued throughout the day, and not only the students, but the instructing staff as well discussed the matter. Prof. Lanza, who has planned to open the meeting, announced that the banquet will be held in the evening. Prof. Lanza then introduced as toast-master of the evening and his opening remarks were cheered with enthusiasm. He urged greater individual effort. Prof. Lanza then introduced the speaker of the evening, Mr. Calvin W. Rice, of New York, Secretary of the A. S. M. E. Mr. Rice said that the A. S. M. E. was greatly interested in the Institute Society. He urged that the members gain experience in presenting these propositions convincingly. Mr. Rice also has ideas and has to be shown. Non-members of the society are the enemy who is in contract with the club. He also gave his idea about the reports.

The next business to come before the meeting was a motion that the banquet reports be sent every month to each organization by the Finance Committee on which the treasurer could make a statement of the condition of the finances of the organization.

A discussion to regard to the "We Are Happy" yell, was held and it was found that only two of the members of the Committee were in favor of finally adopting it. Mr. Whitney has been chairman of the Finance Committee and Mr. Lanza was elected to the office.

Mr. Lanza then introduced the speaker of the evening, Mr. Calvin W. Rice, of New York, Secretary of the A. S. M. E. Mr. Rice said that the A. S. M. E. was greatly interested in the Institute Society. He urged that the members gain experience in presenting these propositions convincingly. Mr. Rice also has ideas and has to be shown. Non-members of the society are the enemy who is in contract with the club. He also gave his idea about the reports.

The next business to come before the meeting was a motion that the banquet reports be sent every month to each organization by the Finance Committee. Mrs. Emma Rogers, the widow of the Mr. Whitney has been chairman of the Finance Committee and Mr. Lanza was elected to the office.

Mr. Lanza then introduced the speaker of the evening, Mr. Calvin W. Rice, of New York, Secretary of the A. S. M. E. Mr. Rice said that the A. S. M. E. was greatly interested in the Institute Society. He urged that the members gain experience in presenting these propositions convincingly. Mr. Rice also has ideas and has to be shown. Non-members of the society are the enemy who is in contract with the club. He also gave his idea about the reports.