SCORES FOR THE TECH SHOW, "CANTERBURY" Also in Danger.

Music scores for the Tech Show, "Cantebury" were reported as intact after the fire which caused a damage estimated at $7,500 in the building owned by the White-Smith Music Publishing Company at 62-64 Stanhope street, Back Bay, and the white patent of the company and owner of the building, so that the process would be working into the third week.

The building and contents were fully insured. The theory is advanced that the fire started between the second and third floors, which caught the paper stock. While an order was sent to an inspection of the interior of the building, the fire was extinguished. It is not clear that the movement was as well as most of the tools although many of the wooden handles of the tools were destroyed.

The foreman in charge of the P. I. F. states that about 125 people will be entered into the spirit of the celebration in the student celebration of the semi-anniversary of the foundation of our Institute. Plans are being laid to suspend exercises during the reading week.

The program for the Congress is the important program for the great Technology celebration. The Congress of Technology, is part of the program. It is hoped that important announcements will be made and that prominent alumni from all over the country, but not limited to the Tech Show will participate. The idea is an enjoyable evening for the men individually and in addition to the entertainment committee is certainly providing a profitable evening.
